Jackson Invites Mayor To Make Public Letter About Chief of Police

EDUCATION BOARD VOTES TO RETAIN TRAINING SCHOOL

Decision Is Reached Despite Threat of Mayor Woodward to Hold Up Salaries of Whole School Department.

PAY OF THREE TEACHERS CUT AT BOARD MEETING

High Tribute Is Paid to Patriotism and Loyalty of Miss Mary Postell by President R. J. Guinn.

Despite Mayor James G. Woodward's threat to hold up the salaries of all the teachers of Atlanta's public schools if the payroll included salaries of normal training school teachers, the education board Thursday afternoon refused to abolish the school, but decided to reduce salaries.

This decision was reached after Mayor Woodward had informed the board that the intent of the finance committees and the general council in failing to appropriate $2,853 to operate the school was to abolish the institution and after he had warned the board not to include the salaries of the three teachers in the general payroll.

By the action of the board, Miss Mary Postell, the principal, is cut from $2,400 a year to $2,000; Miss Julia Anderson from $1,900 to $1,500, and Miss Simpson from $1,500 to $1,200.

Status Not Changed.

The status of the school will not be changed by the action of the board.

It will continue to operate with the same corps of teachers who will be carried on the payrolls as members of the faculty of the Lee Street school. It will be hereafter known as the Lee Street Grammar school and Atlanta Normal Training school. Heretofore, the school was known only as the Atlanta Normal Training school.

The chair of teacher of practice, held by Miss Frank Annie Bass, is abolished, and Miss Bass will appear on the payroll as a teacher at the Lee Street school.

According to Major R. J. Guinn, president of the board, the adjustment of the situation which involved the school, is due to the patriotism and loyalty of Miss Postell. After paying the highest sort of tribute to Miss Postell, President Guinn informed the board while it was in the midst of a discussion of the action of the finance committee of council in failing to provide for the school, that Miss Postell called on him early during the day Thursday and assured him that regardless of whether her salary or the salaries of the other members of the faculty were included in the payroll, the school would continue to operate during the year.

Heart and Soul in Work.

"Miss Postell told me that her heart and soul was in the work," said Major Guinn, "and she assured me that she would continue her work with the school on the salary she received as principal of the grammar school."

The announcement was applauded by members of the board and the teachers were praised for their loyalty and fidelity to the school.

The school will have something like $1,800 to operate on during the remaining ten months of the year. Alderman Armistead, chairman of the school committee who led a vigorous fight against abolishment of the school, and afterwards to prevent cutting the salaries of the teachers, told the board that he felt certain that there would be a surplus of about $2,700 at the end of the year in the teachers' payroll account, and suggested that some part of this amount could be used for the benefit of the school.

Mayor Woodward entered into a lengthy discussion of the finance sheet as passed up by the general council. He told the board that it had no right to continue to operate the school with funds appropriated for other purposes. He urged that the board adopt a policy of economy, suggesting that the salaries of all teachers be graded downward. The mayor's discussion took a wide range of subjects following his explanation of his attitude towards the normal school and his refusal to approve the salary roll in the event it carried the normal teachers' salaries. He touched on the burden of the high schools on the city, and urged the board to adopt the Columbus, Ga., plan of distributing school books.

No Comment by Mayor.

The mayor left the meeting of the board before any action was taken regarding his refusal to approve the payrolls. When informed after the meeting had adjourned of the action of the board he explained that he had no comment to make.

"I will wait to see in what shape the matter is finally put up to the comptroller," said the mayor.

The board commended the plan of Dr. Council to establish a free dental clinic for school children with the understanding that no child treated will be charged for work, nor be forced to purchase dental supplies. It is the understanding of the board that the only requisite is that the child applying for treatment must have a certificate from the medical examiner.

Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin and members of the chamber of commerce "Safety First" committee, appeared before the board with a request that "Safety First don'ts" be hung up in the schools, and

DEAN JOHN R. ATKINSON URGED BY DR. CHAPMAN TO PREACH AT REVIVAL

Sensational Developments Follow Episcopal Minister's Defense of Mayor and Criticism of Men and Religion Forward Movement Methods.

Two challenges, one religious and the other political, were issued last night following Dean John R. Atkinson's startling attack upon the Men and Religion Forward Movement, and the Chapman-Alexander revival, made during course of an address Thursday before the luncheon of the Atlanta Ad Men in the Hotel Ansley.

Challenge No. 1 (Political).

Mayor James G. Woodward was defied by Marion M. Jackson, member of the Men and Religion executive committee, and author of its famous bulletins, to carry out his threat to publish a personal letter to Mr. Jackson written recently in reply to the sensational Men and Religion bulletin, "An Open Letter to the Mayor."

Challenge No. 2 (Religious).

Dean Atkinson, as a result of his attack on the two religious enterprises, was challenged by Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman to appear in the Tabernacle pulpit tonight—or any other night during the revival—and deliver a sermon showing Dr. Chapman and his workers any new methods of bringing more converts to Christ.

ATKINSON'S RETORT.

Retorting to the defi of Dr. Chapman, Dean Atkinson, through a reporter for The Constitution, last night urged Dr. Chapman, if he cared to hear the St. Philips pastor preach, to come down to the Savoy theater next Sunday night and hear him deliver a sermon taken from Dr. Chapman's own motto: "Get Right With God," but reversed into "Get Right About God."

Dean Atkinson says he will have some incidental remarks to make about the Chapman-Alexander meetings. His views of the Men and Religion Movement were expressed before the Ad Men, to whom he declared that the religious body, in their published arraignments of Mayor Woodward and his administration, had made themselves liable to prosecution for malicious slander. He branded their bulletins as unwise, unfair advertising and urged the Ad Men, as representative business men, to move for their suppression.

Branching off from the Men and Religion, he accused the Chapman-Alexander revivalists of "leading weak, shriveling men along the sawdust trail to hysterical conversion." He denounced the use of the motto: "Get Right With God," in flaming, red letters on the billboard, asserting that it was unjust to slangily defame the name of the Father.

CHAPMAN'S DEFENSE.

Dr. Chapman's statement, dictated to a reporter for The Constitution, follows in full:

"I have nothing to say except that I am very sorry that Dr. Atkinson felt called upon to criticize a work that seems to meet with the approval of so many citizens of Atlanta. I have no extreme methods. I preach just as I did in my church when I was pastor. I have seen no shriveling men come down the aisle. To the contrary, I have seen some of the brightest young men I have ever met.

"I make no defense of my method in any way. I would be sincerely pleased if Dr. Atkinson would accept an invitation to preach in my tabernacle any night, and if he can suggest to me any method to use after I preach which may be effective in leading more men to Christ, I will be grateful to him.

"I have no further word to say except to express my regret that anyone should feel called upon to say a word which by so many people could be so easily misunderstood or so sadly distorted.

"I hope I am a Christian gentleman,

WASHINGTON FEARS THAT OTHER COTTON SHIPS MAY MEET THE FATE OF THE STEAMER EVELYN AMERICAN STEAMSHIP EVELYN SUNK BY MINE.

The state department fears for the safety of other American cotton ships following the sinking of the American steamship Evelyn. The Evelyn, carrying a cargo of cotton to Bremen for Germany, was sunk by a mine in the North sea. This was not in the new naval zone around England and no fear was felt that the incident would lead to international complications. But the fate of the Evelyn may be shared by other ships now on the sea, and the administration is awaiting developments apprehensively. The Evelyn case is being thoroughly investigated.

L. & N. IS ACCUSED OF PAYING MILLIONS TO INFLUENCE PUBLIC

Interstate Commerce Commission Also Charges That System Bought Competing Lines to Kill Competition.

BIG SUMS WERE SPENT IN POLITICAL CONTESTS

Much of Money Spent in Tennessee, Alabama and Louisiana—Bonds of Nashville Newspaper Bought by Railroad.

Washington, February 25.—The interstate commerce commission's report on its investigation of the finances, rates and practices of the Louisville and Nashville and allied railroads, sent to the senate today, charges the Louisville and Nashville with acquiring competing lines, and with carrying on for years at a cost of millions of dollars, elaborate political and publicity campaigns, to eliminate competition and influence public opinion.

Further inquiry, and if possible, inspection of the railroad's correspondence was said to be necessary. The report was written before the supreme court handed down its opinion yesterday holding that the commission was without power to force the company to submit its correspondence as well as its records and books to scrutiny.

The investigation was directed in a senate resolution mainly to discover whether the Louisville and Nashville, through control of the Nashville, Chattanoogs and St. Louis railway, and smaller lines, had restrained competition; whether the one-time control of the Louisville and Nashville by the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, operated

PROPOSE DIVISION OF ATHLETIC CLUB

Membership Will Consider Report of Ways and Means Committee at Meeting to Be Held This Evening.

Plans for dividing the membership of the Atlanta Athletic club so as to form two clubs—a country club and a down town club—will be considered tonight at a meeting of the membership, when the report of the ways and means committee will be read. Action will not be taken, however, until a future meeting.

The reasons for this move are set forth in a lengthy report that has been mailed to the members, which concludes that the division of the club properties is necessary to properly finance the town club house and country club house, to meet the current indebtedness, to liquidate the outstanding debts, and to avoid action in the courts.

The report declares that the country club, now in the course of erection by membership appropriations, should be disposed of not later than April 1, 1915. This is the anticipated date of the completion of the country club house.

J. W. Bachman and A. A. Doonan, two of the members of the committee, join in the report with the exception of the conclusions reached as to the necessity of a division of the club properties, or as to the impossibility of financing the club as a whole.

It is proposed to divide the present indebtedness of the club between the two proposed clubs, and allow members to join either or both clubs as they select

Sweep Mines From Seas Says the United States To the Warring Nations

Also Proposed That Germany Stop the Submarine Blockade in Consideration of Britain Allowing Food to Go to German Civilians.

Washington, February 25.—The United States has suggested informally to Great Britain and Germany that in the interests of humanity and the safeguarding of legitimate commerce all mines be removed from the high seas except those directly necessary for the protection of coast defenses and harbors.

This suggestion, along with proposals designed to obtain Great Britain's acquiescence in a plan to permit distribution of foodstuffs to the civilian population of Germany and bring about cessation of the German submarine warfare on merchant ships, has been submitted by England to her allies for consideration.

Intimations have come to the Washington government that until the British cabinet acts and the attitude of France and Russia is learned no reply can be given to the American proposals. This may require several days.

In the meantime, Germany already has manifested a willingness to make concessions, which gives officials here ground for hope that Great Britain will show a conciliatory spirit.

Prisoners Might Starve First.

It can be stated authoritatively that the United States made no mention of what course it would pursue in the event of rejection of its proposals.

High officials of the Washington government have shown much solicitude over what might be the extent of retaliatory measures adopted by the belligerents if they continue to disregard previously accepted principles of international law. It is understood that one of the arguments used by the United States is that if the policy of starvation is put into effect by Great Britain, the first to feel the pinch of hunger might be British, French and Russian prisoners.

Another suggestion, said to have been conveyed, is that suffering forced on the German civilian population might produce an unwholesome effect on the attitude of the American people toward Great Britain.

There is every evidence that neutral governments have manifested more than a willingness to co-operate in ef-

GOVERNMENT CASH FOR FARM OWNERS

Rural Credits Rider Is Attached to Agricultural Appropriation Measure in Its Passage Through Senate.

Washington, February 25.—A farm credits bill, providing for government loans to farm owners, was attached to the agricultural appropriation bill today in its hurried passage through the senate. Presented by Senator McCumber as an amendment, the provision was incorporated without a record vote, at a time when but few senators were in the chamber. The bill itself was passed a short time later.

The McCumber amendment would create a bureau of farm credits in the treasury department, to make loans of government funds through national banks on farm mortgage notes. These loans would run for ten years at 5 per cent, and would be not less than $300 or more than $10,000 to individuals. Issue of United States twenty-year 4½ per cent bonds to establish a permanent fund of $10,000,000 appropriated to cover such a loan would be authorized.

The measure will be perfected finally in conference between the house and the senate. There an effort will be made to shape a rural credits plan acceptable to the house and to the president.

The senate also incorporated in the agricultural bill an amendment appropriating $3,000,000 for the use of the forest service in the Appalachian forest reserves.

After considerable argument the senate declined to support the action of the agricultural committee in striking out an appropriation of $235,000 for the free distribution of seeds. One of the principal new provisions in the bill is the $2,500,000 appropriation for combatting the foot and mouth disease among cattle. The agricultural measure carries $23,000,000. Seven of the big supply measures have been passed and seven are still to be acted on.

The senate tonight took up the naval appropriation bill. Debate on the naval bill centers upon committee amendments adding several millions to the house bill, including provision for five sea-going submarines instead of one, and sixteen coast defense submarines instead of seven.

The house today began work on the last of the supply measures for consideration in the full body, the general deficiency bill. Conferences on other measures which have passed both houses are progressing favorably.

TRI-CORNERED EPIGRAMS

Said Dr. Atkinson:

"Mayor Woodward has cause to sue the Men and Religion for criminal slander.

"There is a best way to do everything, but Dr. Chapman and the Men and Religion seem to fail to conform with the rule in entirety.

"Atlanta is as model a city as I have ever seen. What more do these men want?

"As a wayfaring citizen, I have the right to protest against the name of my Father being emblazoned in gaudy letters of slang on a public billboard. (Meaning Dr. Chapman's billboard inscription, 'Get Right with God.')

"The mayor, instead of being libeled by 'good' men, should be assisted and helped by manly and robust workers for the city's welfare."

Said Dr. Chapman:

"I invite Dean Atkinson to preach in my tabernacle pulpit tomorrow night. I will be extremely grateful if he can show me a better method of leading more men to God.

"I am distressed that a minister should feel called upon to criticise a work that has met with the approval of so many citizens.

"I have seen no shriveling men come down the aisle. To the contrary, they are a better, more manly class than I have ever seen.

"I have no extreme methods."

Said Marion Jackson:

"I regret the source of Dr. Atkinson's attack, but relish the attack. It sets people to thinking.

"Dr. Atkinson is no doubt a good man who means well.

"Despite his statements to the contrary, Mayor Woodward admitted to me that he had a fight on against Chief Beavers.

"We challenge him to publish the private letter to me which he has oft threatened to do.

"None of our bulletins are unfair, libelous. We wouldn't publish them if they were."

Dardanelles Forts Shattered by Guns Of Allied Warships

Officially Announced That All Outer Defenses Have Been Reduced by the Anglo-French Fleet and That the Operations Are Still Continuing—Dardanelles Known as Gateway to Constantinople.

London, February 25.—(Midnight.)—All the forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles have been reduced by the allied fleet. This announcement was made officially tonight.

The announcement of the secretary of the admiralty follows:

"The weather moderating, the bombardment of the outer forts of the Dardanelles was renewed at 8 o'clock this morning (February 25). After a period of long-range fire the squadron of battleships attacked at close range. All the forts at the entrance to the straits were successfully reduced and the operations are continuing."

GATEWAY TO CONSTANTINOPLE.

The Dardanelles, known as the gateway to Constantinople, is a narrow, tortuous strip of water dividing Europe from Asiatic Turkey and leading from the Aegean sea to the Sea of Marmora. It is about 32 miles in length.

At the entrance to the straits on the European side are Forts Helles Burnu and Sedd-El-Bahr, which face Fort Kum Kale on the Asiatic side. Sedd-El-Bahr is the largest fortress in the Dardanelles. Behind it is the Shahim Kalessi fort.

Across the strait from Sedd-El-Bahr to Kum Kale is about two miles. Kum Kale is an old stone castle which of late years had been permitted to decay, but with the outbreak of the present war it undoubtedly has been strengthened with modern guns.

MOUTH HEAVILY MINED.

The mouth of the Dardanelles is said to be heavily mined.

Up the waterway toward Constantinople many small forts dot the shores and there are big fortifications at the entrance to the Sea of Marmora and also about ten miles from the entrance to the strait, at the beginning of the narrows. Here are Forts Namazieh, on the European side, and Chanak, opposite it, both modern fortifications armed with Krupp guns.

Under the treaty of 1841, which was confirmed by the Paris peace treaty of 1856, no foreign warships were permitted to enter the Dardanelles except by the consent of Turkey. Merchant vessels sailing at the narrows between sunrise and sunset were permitted to pass through in ordinary times without formalities, but after sunset and before sunrise no vessels were allowed to pass.

MARCH ON CAPITAL.

If once they force the straits the British and French warships, which are thought to number between thirty and forty, likely would attempt a landing with a subsequent march on Constantinople.

The Bosphorus, the narrow strait, about 18 miles in length, which connects the Black sea with the Sea of Marmora, also is strongly fortified, and it is through this strait the Black sea fleet of Russia would have to come to reach the open.

Within the boundaries of the Black sea a powerful Russian fleet has been bottled up together with hundreds of steamers, which might be used for transport purposes. Furthermore, should the allied fleet succeed in its present undertaking, Russia could release millions of bushels of wheat.

MADDOX RESENTS ATTACKS OF CLUB

Stormy Scenes Follow Violent Denunciation by Fifth Ward Alderman of Criticism of His Conduct.

Stormy scenes marked the meeting of the Fifth Ward Improvement club last night, following a violent denunciation by Alderman James W. Maddox of the criticism heaped upon his head because of his attitude in the recent embroglio anent the making up of the finance sheet.

Alderman Maddox declared that the club treated him unfairly by taking advantage of his absence from the city at the last meeting, and he frankly told the members present at the meeting that in view of the club's attitude and its failure to co-operate with him, he would in the future ignore the organization and would give his support to only such movements as come to him from residents and citizens.

Barrett Makes Protest.

Several times during his speech Alderman Maddox called attention to criticism of his conduct by Dr. V. M. Barrett, and he made some rather heated remarks in reply. At one stage of his talk, after he had made several references to Dr. Barrett's remarks and had mentioned his name in sarcasm, the latter arose in protest.

"I might be an old man with gray hair, and I might be smaller than the

RUSSIANS LOCKED IN DEATH GRAPPLE WITH THE GERMANS

Fighting in Progress Near the East Prussian Frontier Seems to Be the Bloodiest of the War.

VICTORY AT PRZASNYSZ CLAIMED BY GERMANS

Berlin Reports the City Has Been Stormed and 10,000 Russians Captured — Russians Claim Gains at Several Points.

London, February 25.—Military experts are keeping their eyes on operations along the eastern front, where battles of immense magnitude are developing.

The Germans, apparently having found the Russian fortress line around the East Prussian frontier too strong for them, are attempting to make their way to Warsaw from the northwest, and, starting from Mlawa, which has been the base of several previous offensive operations, have penetrated as far as Przasnysz. They claim to have captured there 10,000 prisoners and much war material.

The Germans also claim to have had successes in North Poland, so that they would be in strong force in that territory.

On the Ezura and Rawka river, directly west of Warsaw, from which direction the Germans early in the year made such desperate attempts to reach that city, the Russians are on the offensive, and according to the Germans reports have made a slight advance in the direction of Bolimow.

In western Galicia and along the Carpathian ranges battles are still being fought without any slackening, and there, through eastern Galicia and Bukowina, the Russians and Austro-German forces are fighting stubbornly.

In this war area the temperature remains unusually high and the armies are contesting every foot of ground under the most unfavorable conditions, men, horses and guns sinking deep in mud.

The armies in the west face the same difficulties, and as far as the allies are concerned they are confining themselves to bombardments of the German positions along the coast and to offensive operations in the Champagne, the Argonne, on the heights of the Meuse and in the Vosges, where on the higher ground they are not so seriously affected by the thaw.

tween the Russians and the Turks in the Caucasus, where both claim to have been successful.

VICTORY CLAIMED BY GERMANS.

Berlin, February 25.—(Via London.) The town of Przasnysz, Russian Poland, yesterday was taken by storm by German forces, according to official announcement today. The German announcement says the garrison was captured, 18,000 prisoners. The report is dated February 25. It follows:

"In the west: In Champagne the enemy yesterday continued his desperate efforts, which, in spite of the coming forces engaged, were again absolutely without success. Otherwise there has been nothing of importance on the western front.

"In the east: The engagements on Memel, Bobr and Narow rivers continue. The town of Przasnyez, in Russian Poland, which had been extensively fortified, was stormed yesterday by the East Prussian reserves. After a stubborn fight we were victorious, capturing more than 10,000 prisoners, over 20 cannon, a large number of machine guns and a very large amount of war material.

"In other engagements fought north of the River Vistula during the past few days we have taken 5,000 Russian prisoners. In Poland, south of the Vistula, the Russian advance at Augustowo, asked German officers whether it was true Antwerp was being besieged by the Germans and soon would fall. When the situation on the western front was explained to this Russian officer he refused to believe that the German western army was on French soil."

Although capture of Przasnysz has not been reported from Petrograd, dispatches from that city said heavy fighting was in progress in that region.

Przasnysz is about 15 miles from the East Prussian frontier, almost due north of Warsaw, and has a population of about 10,000. After expulsion of the Russians from East Prussia the Germans inaugurated an assault on the fortified line in northern Poland to which the Russians fell back. Of these battles the most violent has been in progress at Przasnysz.

FIGHTING FIERCE, RUSSIANS REPORT.

Petrograd, February 25.—(Via London, February 26, 1:26 a. m.)—An official communication issued this evening says:

"On the Niemen sector from Kovno to Olita our vanguards have progressed to the right reference from the river. In the region of Sventvianski-Goja the left bank of the river was cleared of the Germans who passed a small detachment of infantry to the right bank near Sventvianski. The battle is proceeding in this region.

"On the left bank of the Niemen north of Grodno and the upper Bobr fighting continues in the Stabine region.

"The artillery of the fortress of Ossowetz opened a violent fire and stood the fire of the German batteries in the approaches to the fortress.

"On the right bank of the Narew action has been developed along the whole front. The enemy is concentrating there his principal efforts in the direction of Rozan and Przasnysz. Our troops have repulsed the German attacks in many sectors with heavy losses for the enemy and have counter attacked vigorously. German attempts to cross the River Orzits.

"The Germans defended fiercely a farm near the village of Lipniki which we captured after a great struggle on the 23d and 24th of the 24th. Only 150 Germans of the garrison at this point of support survived. They surrendered.

"On the left bank of the Vistula, on February 24 the Germans assumed the offensive in the region of the farm at Moschely. Our troops by an impetuous advance seized their positions and after a hand-to-hand struggle captured their first and second lines of trenches, making prisoners seven officers, a surgeon and 400 soldiers and some machine guns. Our artillery fire dispersed the battalions of Germans from Bolimow who had come to reinforce the enemy.

"In the west in the Carpathians continue.

"In Galicia a desperate fight took place on the River Tchetchva, where, on night attack, we dislodged the Austrians from the village of Lukha, and on the next were completely hystirisa and Vorona. The Austrians, overwhelmed by our fire near the villages of Volchinets and Zapolie, fled in disorder, the bodies of their dead being heaped in the defiles near those villages.

"A counter-attack, which was delivered with the bayonet near the village of Podpechary, succeeded in throwing the Austrians back after a desperate encounter."

MORE PROGRESS MADE BY FRENCH.

Paris, February 25.—The war office today issued the following communication:

"In the region of Lombaertzyde our artillery reduced to silence and severely damaged a battery of the enemy.

"The day has been relatively calm on the front from the Lys as far as the Champagne and Argonne. In the region of Souain and Beausejour operations continue unfavorable for us.

"Notably, we have captured a German work to the north of Mesnil, inflicted heavy losses on the garrison and by our fire a column on the march to the southeast of Tahure, silenced the fire of a hostile battery and blew up several caissons.

"In the Woevre on the little stream of Meurissons, near Four-De-Paris, we destroyed a blockhouse.

"At Ailly-Sur-Meuse a German attack, in an attempt to debouch, was repelled by our fire."

GRAY-HAIRED MEN WON AT REVIVAL

With Firm Tread, Aged Converts Walk Down the Aisle—Over Eighty People Come Forward at Great Meeting.

By J. Walter LeCraw.

Over a dozen men with gray hair, among a total of over eighty converts, walked down the aisle Thursday night at the revival tabernacle and gave their hands to Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman with a pledge to lead new and better lives, following a strong sermon by the evangelist on the subject, "What Men Do With Their Sins."

Three of them came forward together, in one of the most imposing scenes that has taken place since the revival series began. As they walked down the wooden aisle, side by side, during the singing of the invitation hymn, "Come to Jesus," the eyes of thousands were turned upon them, and the audience Thursday evening being nearly 5,000 strong.

Tall, erect and clear-eyed, his hair just tinged with the silver of live's evening, but his body as straight as a soldier's, the man who seemed to be the leader of the three led the way toward the evangelist. Dr. Chapman, standing upon the raised platform at the front rows of the auditorium, welcoming the converts, saw the striking figures of the three men and stepped forward to meet them.

Tribute to Intellectuality.

"God bless you, Dr. Chapman," said the soldierly looking man of the three. "I heard you preach twice here this week, and you've shown me things I would never have seen if you hadn't come. There was not a tremor to his words.

Grasping them warmly by the hands, Dr. Chapman invited them to enter the room behind the choir, and as they passed on together toward the room, the evangelist turned to welcome other converts who were pressing to the front.

Among the eighty-odd who came forward were many young men, also some of them came alone, and others in groups of twos and threes. One, who was a young man of apparently twenty-one years whose face was lined with dissipation, reached out and grasped the evangelist's hand firmly and declared that the sermons he had heard had made a new man of him.

Dr. Chapman's reply was: "He shall be holden with the cords of his sins." Proverbs 5:22. The sermon follows:

"The Bible is a book of striking figures, thrilling stories and authentic history. In no book in the world can we find such descriptive sentences as in the Bible, and if there were no other argument to prove its inspiration I should find myself willing to accept it as the Book of God and such a work of man because of such sentences as form the text above quoted.

"What a striking picture it is. We behold one with just the slightest cord of sin about him from which he can easily break away, but the cords multiply in number and increase in strength until the strongest giant is held a prisoner.

Sin Small at Start.

"Sin is always small in its beginnings. A gentleman stood upon the piazza of his house in a time of storm was raging. He was looking out on the beautiful lawn which surrounded his home when suddenly a tree which was the pride of his family went down with a crash. He was amazed to see the cause of ruin.

"When the storm was over he made his way to the fallen monarch to find a reason for its fall. It looked well enough on the outside, but on further search he found and then he remembered that when he was a boy passing the tree with an ax in his hand he had struck the tree, and the water falling into the bruised bark had begun to eat its way to the tree's heart. The ax healed over, but the decay went on. This is the cause of many a man's failure, a small beginning, a tragic ending.

Sure in Its Progress.

"It is always sure in its progress. It is said that in Turkey there are certain little ants which eat their way into the timbers of great buildings and they bore so many holes that while the building seems strong it is as a matter of fact exceedingly weak, and as soon as the storm comes to blow with force the buildings are crushed. It is thus that a vagabond habit of sin works slowly but surely, until the end is reached.

"If the beginning of sin is small and the progress is sure, then there is a perfect description of the end to be felt in which the words of the Apostle Paul when he says: 'O wretched man that I am! Who shall deliver me from the body of this death?' Romans 7:24.

"In turning over the pages of the Bible and studying the subject of the bondage of sin and trying to find out what men do with their sins I have learned the following lessons:

Some Evade Them.

"Like Cain: they seek to ignore them or cast them to one side.

"Cain talked with Abel his brother; and it came to pass, when they were in the field, that Cain rose up against Abel his brother, and slew him.

"And the Lord said unto Cain, 'Where is Abel thy brother?' And he said, 'I know not. Am I my brother's keeper?'

"And he said, 'What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the ground.'

"'And now art thou cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand.'

"When they have sinned, it shall not henceforth yield unto thee her strength; a fugitive and a vagabond shalt thou be in the earth.'

"And Cain said unto the Lord, 'My punishment is greater than I can bear.'" Genesis 4:8-13.

"God has made certain statements regarding sin which have been changed, and yet how many times we find men who seem to think that they are to be the exception to His rule, that they may break themselves against His law and evade the penalty. But this is not true, and just as Cain was marked because of his sin, so shall every man be who sins and does not confess and forsake his sin.

Some Encourage Them.

"Like Judas Iscariot some men encourage their sin. There is, of course, in all human nature a natural tendency toward evil. There is a constant tug, pull down, and we must fight if we would win. It seems a strange thing that while all men recognize that this is true, yet there is a disposition to encourage sin in our lives possibly without meaning to do so.

"Take Judas, for example, note his deception when he said after the ointment had been poured out for the Master, 'Why this waste?' And then see him progress in sin until he sells his Lord for thirty pieces of silver. Behold him when he rises up from the table when our Lord and His disciples were at the Last Supper, and see him as he goes out from the Master's presence.

"There is a significant expression used just here when we read, 'It was night, it was indeed the blackness of night for Judas Iscariot.' See him kiss his Master and have upon his lips the mark of Jesus' blood. Watch him as he throws the silver back into the presence of the men from whom he had received it, and behold him in the sheer desperation he puts the cords around his neck and swings out into eternity, the rope breaking his body falling away and breaking in two. The end of the transgressor is indeed hard, and no one proves more thoroughly than Judas that what we sow we reap.

Some Cover Them.

"When the children of Israel were defeated at Ai it was because there was sin in the camp.

"And Joshua said unto Achan, My son, give, I pray thee, glory to the Lord God of Israel, and make confession unto him; and tell me now what thou hast done; hide it not from me.

"And Achan answered Joshua, and said, 'Indeed, I have sinned against the Lord God of Israel, and thus and thus have I done.

"'When I saw among the spoils a goodly Babylonish garment, and two hundred shekels of silves, and a wedge of gold of fifty shekels weight, then I coveted them, and took them; and, behold, they are hid in the earth in the midst of my tent, and the silver under it.'" Joshua 7:19-21.

"It is not possible to cover one's sin though some men have tried with all their might to do so. In the light of this sad story I would remember all sin is progressive. Note the expressions in this twenty-first verse: 'I saw among the spoils,' 'I coveted,' 'I took,' 'I hid.' Examine your own life, and you will find that it has been just like the life of Achan.

Many Boast of Infidelity.

"He is not the only man who has tried to hide his sin and failed. There are people all around about us who are seeking to cover up what they have done, and behind a smiling face or an attempt at indifference there is sham. Many a man boasts of his infidelity. As a rule the difficulty is not intellectual but moral, and not as a rule has some sin back of it.

"A friend of mine conducting services in a university was just passing into the chapel when he heard a upper classman say some sneering thing about the speaker and about Christ. My friend walked directly towards him, and said in a commanding voice: 'I want to see you sir,' took him into a private room, and then said: 'What have you hiding?' 'What is it you are trying to cover?' And the man's face became deathly white, and then he uncovered his heart to my friend and revealed a picture which was simply awful.

"There is no reason for infidelity. I am sure, but the average skeptic is not honest, he is wed.

"And the sad thing about trying to cover sin is this: The resurrection of it will always come when you can least afford to face your sin.

Some Acknowledge Them.

"Like David of old when he found that he had sinned he cries out:

"'For I acknowledge my transgression; and my sin is ever before me.' Psalm 51:3.

"It would seem to me that all sins mentioned thus far were surpassed by the sin of David. Here the resurrection of it will always come when you can least afford to face your sin.

Some Acknowledge Them.

"Like David of old when he found that he had sinned he cries out:

"'For I acknowledge my transgression; and my sin is ever before me.' Psalm 51:3.

"It would seem to me that all sins mentioned thus far were surpassed by the sin of David. Here was murder. Ananias dropped dead. Achan was stoned, and Judas hanged himself, yet here is David with a sin greater then all because he sinned against the light and his position as king, but he acknowledged his transgression, and God put his sin away from him, took him back again into His favor, and David became a man after God's own heart.

"If you have sinned, and many of you have, I would recommend confession and contrition, why not acknowledge your sin to Him? He will forgive you.

Some Repent of Them.

"Study the story of Peter, and read the following lesson concerning him:

"And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

"And Peter went out and wept bitterly.' Luke 22:61-62.

"If Peter had simply wet his face with his tears it might be thought he had been sincere repentance, but if you will study his life you will see that from this point he is a changed man, and he walks in favor with Jesus Christ. Compare the stories of Peter and Judas. Judas sins and sins again, and then hurls himself into eternity unprepared to meet his God. Peter sins and sins grievously, but because he repents Judas never was true and Peter was. The one sold his Master for thirty pieces of silver, and the other denied Him with an oath.

"Peter repents and is today in glory with his Lord, and Judas is lost. Repentance is not only sorrow for sin but godly sorrow, and such a Godly sorrow has to lead us to turn away from that vile thing. It is not assuming a new attitude towards the Son of God. If, therefore, you have sinned, and many of you have, why not repent and receive His forgiveness.

Seven Steps Down.

"The stories of the failure of different men seem very much alike. Our experiences are as a rule identical, and we go down in the following steps:

"First Step—Trifling with sin.

"Second—Committing sin.

"Third—Forming evil habits.

"Fourth—Yielding one's self to the terrific current which sweeps us from our feet.

"Fifth—Letting go of God to do evil.

"Sixth—Tempting others.

"Seventh—The end.

Seven Steps Up.

"The case is not hopeless. We may turn squarely about if we will, and if we are to go back to God the following steps must be taken as we hurry homeward.

"First Step—I will not do this thing again.

"Second—I will accept the help of God in Christ.

"Third—I will continually receive this help.

"Fourth—I will walk with Him.

"Fifth—I will trust Him to keep me.

"Sixth—I will help others.

"Seventh—The end is glorious.

An Englishman once sitting by my side in a service told me the story of a girl who had gone away to live a life of sin and a grandmother of the mother who came to the minister to seek help in finding the girl. The minister said: 'Bring me as many of your pictures as you can find,' and when she brought them he wrote in red ink under-

ARREST OF DRAKE PROBED BY CHIEF

Prominent Citizen Declares He and His Wife Were Insulted by Whitehall Street Policeman.

While escorting his wife home last night R. A. Drake, manager of the J. M. High furniture department, was torn from his wife's side by an Atlanta policeman and sent to police barracks in a patrol wagon, while his wife stood on the street without an escort, until one of her husband's friends escorted her home.

All this was done, according to Policeman Gordon, because Mr. Drake instructed him to open up a crowd in front of the Old Mill theater on Whitehall street to allow himself and wife to pass. The officer says that Mr. Drake called him a big stiff and told him to get into the line of duty.

"I am not going to stand for any policeman, just because he is a big man, insulting me and my wife," said Mr. Drake. "I did absolutely nothing that could have offended him. I insist upon being given the right and my wife will be here to testify.

"We were trying to pass by a crowd of ruffians and I asked the officer to open up the way. He arrested me just because I argued with him when my wife and I had to walk around the policeman to pass."

Chief Beavers and Night Chief Jett investigated the affair in detail order after Mr. Drake arrived at police station and immediately released him on a copy of charges. He will be tried Saturday.

WILL HOLD SERVICES FOR LOCAL SALOON MEN

Preaching and prayer will be conducted Friday afternoon by Jay Chapman and Mr. Alexander for the saloonists of the city. A special canvass of the saloons has been made by Evangelist Tillman H. Braddy and many have expressed their intention to attend. Mr. Braddy was accompanied in his visits by one saloonist who has been won over by the revivalists.

FRECKLES

February and March Bring Out Unsightly Spots—How to Remove Easily.

The woman with tender skin dreads February and March because they are likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how thick her veil, the sun and winds have a strong tendency to make her freckle.

Fortunately for her peace of mind, the recent discovery of a new prescription, othine—double strength, makes it possible for even those most susceptible to freckles to keep their skin clear and white. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, the double strength othine should remove them.

Get an ounce from Jacobs' Pharmacy or any druggist and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails.

TWO MORE SHIPS SENT TO BOTTOM IN THE WAR ZONE

The Deptford and Western Coast, Both Small British Steamers, Sunk by Mines or Submarines.

London, February 25.—The second week of Germany's submarine campaign opened today with the loss of two British ships. The Deptford, a small steamer, was sunk off the English coast by a mine or a torpedo.

The small British coasting steamer Western Coast was also sunk by a mine or torpedoed in the English channel. Previously eleven vessels, eight of them British, had been sent to the bottom.

Germany apparently is preparing to extend the field of these operations, for three submarines have been sent to Pola, presumably for use in the Adriatic and Mediterranean.

DEPTFORD SUNK; ONE LIFE LOST.

London, February 25.—One sailor lost his life when the small British steamer Deptford, 230 feet long and 1,391 tons, was sent to the bottom in 20 minutes either by a German torpedo from a submarine or by coming in contact with a mine in the North sea at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at a point off Scarborough. The fifteen other members of the steamer's crew were saved and were landed at South Shields at an early hour this morning.

The engineer of the Deptford says he was on duty in the stokehold at the time the explosion in the torpedo head or in the mine rent the Deptford in twain. He says he saw a flash of blue flame shoot up from the bottom of the ship and through her deck. The force of the explosion threw him down violently and stunned him. He managed to reach the deck, however, as the vessel was heeling, and just as the lifeboat was being launched. It was the carpenter of the Deptford who lost his life.

After hours in an open and leaking boat in a snow storm, which caused them to suffer acutely, the men say, they signalled a steamer, but no notice was taken of their appeal. Later, however, they encountered the steamer Vulcano, which picked them up and brought them into South Shields.

Some members of the crew say they saw the wake of a submarine after the Deptford was struck.

WESTERN COAST SUNK IN CHANNEL.

London, February 25.—The small British coasting steamer Western Coast has been sunk by a mine or torpedoed in the English channel at a point off Beachy Head. The crew was landed at Portsmouth today.

CREW OF EVELYN REPORTED SAFE.

Berlin, February 25.—(By Wireless.) The crew of the American steamer Evelyn, which went down in the North sea after striking a mine, apparently have reached Bremerhaven, the second boat having been picked up by a German steamer.

Neither the American embassy nor the German admiralty has received a detailed report concerning the loss of the American steamer Carib, which hit a mine and sank off Helgoland.

The circumstances under which these two vessels were wrecked are being investigated thoroughly. The American consul at Bremerhaven is to take the deposition of the master of the Evelyn, whose statement will determine the responsibility for the Evelyn's loss, and the course described as safe by the German admiralty.

SUBMARINES SENT TO ADRIATIC.

Geneva, February 25.—(Via Paris.)—Three new German submarines arrived safely yesterday at Pola, the chief naval station of Austria-Hungary, according to a telegram to The Tribune, and soon will begin operations in the Adriatic and Mediterranean.

A Munich dispatch says Germany is arranging to send several other submarines to Austria.

BRITAIN WANTS RUSSIA TO GET WARM PORT

London, February 25.—Foreign Secretary Grey announced in the house of commons today that Great Britain was in entire accord with Russia's desire for access to the sea.

The foreign secretary's statement was in response to a question from Frederick W. Jowett, whether Emanuel Ineroff, and approved, the statement of the Russian foreign minister, M. Sazanoff, in the duma, that "Russia intended permanently to occupy Constantinople."

The foreign secretary said he was unaware that M. Sazanoff had made any such statement, but he added, "the statement I have seen was that M. Sazanoff had said that the events on the Russo-Turkish frontier were bringing Russia nearer realization of the political-economic problem bound up with Russia's access to the sea.

"With these aspirations," he continued, "England is in sympathy. What form the realization will take will no doubt be settled in the terms of peace."

Sir Edward Grey's announcement marks one of the important developments in the European situation since the beginning of the war. Russia's desire for a warm water port and an unrestricted outlet from the Black sea has long been one of her most cherished national aspirations.

Speaking in the duma on February 9, Premier Goremykin declared: "The radiant future of the Russians on the Black sea is beginning to dawn near the walls of Constantinople."

$30,000 IN BONDS TO HELP SCHOOLS VOTED BY CONYERS

News was received in Atlanta last night that Conyers, Ga., had overwhelmingly voted for $30,000 school bonds, and that of 184 votes cast only two were cast against the bonds.

W. A. Edwards, an Atlanta architect, with offices at 622 Candler building, has been chosen architect of the school building. He has completed plans for same.

SWEEP MINES FROM SEAS, SAYS THE UNITED STATES

forts made here to assist in a settlement of questions arising out of submarine and mine warfare.

Embargo Power Proposed for Wilson.

Secretary Bryan denied today that the United States contemplated an embargo on exports of foodstuffs.

Following a talk with President Wilson, Representative Porter, of Pennsylvania, republican, introduced a bill to authorize the president to lay, regulated and revoke embargos on all ships and vessels in United States ports, or United States or foreign vessels, until fifteen days after the commencement of the next session of congress.

"No man," said Mr. Porter, "can anticipate the emergencies likely to arise in our foreign relations during the next nine months and congress should not adjourn without placing in the president's hands every possible assistance to meet the complications as they arise."

The minister from Norway and Sweden and other neutral envoys who have inquired, some of them on instructions from their governments, have not been given details of the proposal because the subject is regarded as in an informal and unofficial stage as yet.

Britain Has Much to Gain.

From the points of view of the Washington government, Great Britain would have much to gain from an acceptance of the American proposals. The abolition of the war zones around Great Britain and Ireland and the removal of mines, it is argued, would render safe the commerce of the allies safe.

Originally when mines were laid in the North sea, Germany and Great Britain accused each other of being the aggressor in this respect. The responsibility for the initiative was fixed by the United States government and no protest was made. The new move by the United States would brush aside all questions of culpability and appeal to the belligerents to sweep up their mines and prevent further accidents such as already have befallen three score neutral vessels.

BRITISH PUBLIC AGAINST PROPOSAL.

London, February 25.—The American note, the contents of which remain secret, but which in general seeks to limit the area of submarine warfare, including the war zone prescribed by Germany and the shipment of foodstuffs to the civilian population of belligerent countries, was considered at a meeting of the cabinet today. No intimation as to the official attitude towards it has been obtained.

Press and public, however, on the supposition that President Wilson has suggested that Great Britain should not carry out her threat to place an embargo on foodstuffs for Germany, and that, in return, Germany should not enforce her submarine blockade against the British isles already have expressed their disapproval of acceptance of such a proposition.

While eight British ships have been destroyed in the week that the blockade has been in force, it is pointed out that they are for the most part small vessels and that most of them, instead of having food for this country, either were in ballast or carrying coal or other freight for neutral countries.

It is believed here also that the destruction of neutral ships and cargoes will embroil Germany with neutral countries, and that in the long run the losses the allies suffer will be more than offset by the anger aroused on the part of the neutrals and the possible refusal of countries, such as Norway, to allow goods to be shipped from their ports to Germany.

No indication as to the attitude of the government was disclosed to the public. It is expected, however, that the British reply to the American note will be ready within a day or two.

It is understood the draft of the note to neutral states advising them of the nature of reprisals to be adopted in reply to the German submarine blockade, already has been drawn up, but the arrival of the new American note caused a temporary suspension of this matter.

AFTER CHASE OF YEARS TWO GIRLS ARE CAUGHT

Loraine Belmont and Alice Smith, later being charged over America for three years, have been arrested in Savannah, Ga., and will be brought to Atlanta by City Policeman Sam Webb and tried on the charge of swindling the Durham Jewelry company, 20 Edgewood avenue, out of $1,500 of diamonds and other jewelry in the summer of 1912.

According to E. B. Durham, president of the jewelry firm, the young women represented themselves as having considerable money in the Third National bank. Immediately upon securing the jewelry they skipped Atlanta, going to Greenville, S. C., and then to New York, it is said. At White Plains, N. Y., they were detected, but they had disposed of the jewelry. They fought requisition and won in the lower courts, but their counsel appealed their case to the higher courts, and they were allowed to give $2,000 bond each.

Upon giving bond they again disappeared, and for three years Mr. Durham says he spent over $1,000 in an effort to locate them.

MADDOX RESENTS ATTACK OF CLUB

alderman." Dr. Barrett exclaimed, "but I can take care of myself."

Friends restrained him as he started down the aisle in the direction of Alderman Maddox.

Alderman Maddox also declared that he did not believe that he was treated fairly by President C. J. Bowden. The declaration brought from the president a reply to the effect that the statements attributed to him were not correct.

After the tide of debate subsided Dr. Barrett, who came in for most of the alderman's cutting replies, declared that it was evident that at the time Alderman Maddox was criticised there was some misapprehension. Dr. Barrett disclaimed any intention on the part of treating the alderman unfairly, and as an evidence of good faith he afterwards offered a motion that the club vote resolutions of confidence and thanks in the integrity and loyalty of the alderman.

Peace Is Restored.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted, and the peace and harmony which threatened for a time to injure, if not disrupt, the organization was restored.

President Bowden gave notice that he would resign as head of the club and suggested that when the members next assembled they be prepared to elect another president.

He declared afterwards, however, after the affair had been smoothed out, that he would probably reconsider the notice and remain.

At a previous meeting of the organization Alderman Maddox was severely censored for leaving the finance committee and voting for the caucus amendments. He told the club that he supported the amendment because it carried $5,000 for a schoolhouse in Howell station. He told the club that he was fearful when Councilman Johnson agreed to vote to sustain the mayor's veto of the sheet that the appropriation made by the finance committee would be lost. Councilman Johnson also explained his position in support of the mayor's veto. He said that he had every reason to believe that both appropriations would be lost to the ward in the event he did not support the mayor.

After the club voted its confidence in Alderman Maddox members heard from J. Oscar Mills, John D. Sisson and J. O. Cochran, manager of the park department. Commissioner Mills declared that Alderman Maddox was one of the most loyal members of the fifth ward. Mr. Sisson also complimented Alderman Maddox.

Manager Cochran briefly outlined the improvements planned for Maddox park. He assured the club of his aid whenever he is called upon.

INSANITY DISCUSSED BY LOCAL OSTEOPATHS

The Atlanta Osteopathic society met Thursday evening at the Piedmont hotel and after transacting routine business took up for discussion the subject, "Insanity and How Certain Forms are Amenable to Osteopathic Treatment."

The discussion was informal, but thoroughly covered by the twenty physicians present. Cases were cited that had been and are now being treated at Still Hildreth sanitarium of Macon, Missouri which is under the direction of Dr. Bonfiorn Geddine, one of the most noted insanity experts in the country.

It was stated that indisputable proof had been furnished to show that many cases of insanity are due to the displacement of vertebrae so as to interfere with the nerves that carry the blood to the brain.

The announcement was made that the Georgia State Osteopathic association would meet in Atlanta on May 14 and 15, and that Dr. Louisa Burns, of Chicago, would make a talk on "The Practical Application of Research Experiments to Prove That Osteopathy is Correct in Its Principles."

An effort will be made at the national convention of osteopaths at Portland, Maine, to get the 1916 convention for Atlanta.

Those making addresses were Dr. Gussie Phillips, Dr. John Phelps, Dr. E. E. Bragg, Dr. Otto Grice and Dr. Robert Eitel, of Jackson, Ga.

W. I. Johnson, flagman at the Thurmond Street railroad crossing, had his left foot crushed by the wheels of a switch engine while on duty at his post last night. The foot was later amputated at the Atlanta hospital. Eye-witnesses state that Johnson was in the act of flagging a train to go by, and that he stepped backward onto another track. This, they say, the eye-witnesses say, the switch engine struck him and knocked him down.

FORD PLANT TO HIRE 200 MORE MEN SOON

The local agency of the Ford Motor company, of Detroit, Thursday morning moved into its handsome new southern assembling plant, erected at a total cost of $350,000, on Ponce de Leon avenue.

This building is one of the most beautiful in the city; is four stories high, fire-proof, protected with standpipe fire system and automatic sprinklers, and, as Chief Cummings, head of Atlanta's fire department, said, in an inspection of the structure, "there is not a place where one can place his finger on combustible material in the building."

And this is true with the exception of the stock, and very little of the stock is subject to fire.

Complete parts were assembled on the opening day for the building of 700 Ford autos.

Within the last few months 75 men have been employed by the Atlanta Ford agency, and these men have been secured in Atlanta. The total number at work now is 150.

Within the next few weeks over 200 more men will be added to the immense force needed to run the huge southern assembling plant.

Stuart Abbott and F. P. Ferlez, manager and assistant manager of the plant, declare that practically every one of these 200 new employees will be Atlantans, very few employees of the Ford company being transferred here.

The beautiful building is now open for the inspection of the public, and visitors will be shown over the structure by employees of the agency.

GENTRY IS ELECTED SOUTHERN BELL HEAD

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. was held in New York yesterday. President W. T. Gentry submitted his annual report. The following directors were elected:

U. N. Bethell, N. C. Kingsbury, Theo N. Vail, C. H. Wilson, George D. Milne, W. T. Gentry and J. Epps Brown.

The directors met and re-elected the following officers: W. T. Gentry, president; J. Epps Brown, first vice president; J. M. B. Hoxsey, second vice president and treasurer; Leland Hume, third vice president; Hunt Chipley, general counsel; C. J. Holditch, general auditor, and Addison Maupin, secretary and assistant treasurer.

In his annual report, President Gentry referred to the depression in the south owing to the stagnation of the cotton crop. He declared, however, that business is improving and predicted an era of prosperity for the south in the immediate future.

FARM FOR INEBRIATES MAY BE ESTABLISHED

Members of Council Call Upon Recorder to Talk Over Suggestion.

Members of council have recently called upon Recorder George E. Johnson to get more details about a plan, suggested by the recorder in his last annual report, whereby the inebriates and users of drugs can be taken care of and cured without any cost to the city.

The recorder says that he thinks it not only useless to send such people to the stockade, but that he believes it is not humane.

When asked about the plan he has proposed, Recorder Johnson said:

"I have not had time to make a thorough investigation of the probation system we have in the city, but I find there are a great many confirmed drunkards and dope fiends who are worthless at the stockade as far as labor is concerned, and, therefore, I have recommended that the city council purchase a tract of land eight or ten miles from the city, and the street sweepings we now destroy in the crematory, be placed on this farm, and that inebriates and dope fiends be sent to this farm to cultivate and make the feedstuffs for the stock of the various departments of the city. While they are incarcerated, their families could draw from the city $2.00 per week for their support."

Testifies That Prisoner Would Steal Kimball If He Could Move It

"There stands before you," said City Physician Dr. Mell Martin, "the most wonderful negro, in some respects, that ever came into the police court."

The doctor was testifying about Tom Hughes, the negro who stole a horse and buggy and sold it, and was, when asked by the recorder on Wednesday if he wanted to go to the medical college or the stockade, exclaimed, "I rudder go ter heaben."

"This fellow," continued the doctor, "is one of the best men I ever knew when he is sober, for he is honest and hard working. But the moment he gets to drinking he takes a notion that everything he sees belongs to him. Why, he would take the Kimball house if he had any way to move it."

"Well, Tom," stated the recorder, "you are going to neither medical college, stockade nor heaven—not yet—for I am going to send you to jail for stealing the imagination like yours needs a wall around it."

Lovely New Blouses

Take Possession of the Waist Section

There is much to be seen and to be admired in the waist section right now.

The new blouses are here in such variety, such charming variety that must please the woman in search of the different, the out-of-the-ordinary.

Where to begin the telling of it all.

There are crepe de chine waists that should be told of first because they are so splendidly practical.

There are Georgette crepe blouses that should be told of first, because they are so exquisitely dainty and fine.

There are embroidered nets heavy with hand work; there are waists of sheerest voiles showing masses of laces, and dimity and organdie waists as light and cool as a breeze—after all, it remains for you to see the things as they are—it is a newly beautiful display, something better, more diversified than we've ever done. As one woman told us yesterday, "Your waists are prettier by far than any I have seen."

But—to list a few at prices that have already become very popular, because the values have proven to be most unusual.

At $2.25 Crepe de chine blouses. Six styles to choose from. One of the prettiest has rows and rows of pin tucks down the front; another has an embroidered design with hemstitched tucks forming a coat effect—the new high-low collars, roll collars. In maize, flesh and white.

At $3.45 Crepe de chine, plain shades of maize, gold, flesh and white and striped—all washable. One style has a cluster of tucks, a hemstitched vest, another shows broad box tucks down the front. The collars may be worn buttoned close around the neck, or turned back low.

At $5.00 AND $5.75—A beautiful variety of plain and embroidered crepe de chine and striped pussy willow, waists—groups of narrow tucks, broad box pleats. Many are so plain that they must appeal strongly to the woman who prefers the "tailorish" style. In maize, flesh, putty, gray and white.

And Still we have not told of the infinite variety of inexpensive lingerie waists, the kinds women will soon be wanting by the half dozen—priced at $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and upwards—nor have we told of the rare and lovely "orchids" of this flower garden—the wondrous net and lace and hand done embroidered affairs—indeed, there's much to be seen right now!

EXTRA SENATE SESSION CONSIDERED BY WILSON

President Wants the Colombian and Nicaraguan Treaties Confirmed.

Washington, February 25.—Whether a special session of the senate shall be called by President Wilson after March 4 to consider the Colombian and Nicaraguan treaties probably will be decided by the president at tomorrow's cabinet meeting. Many of the president's advisers are opposed to the special session, but the administration is very anxious to have the treaties ratified and it was considered probable tonight that a senate session would be called for March 5.

Members of the senate foreign relations committee were given to understand at its last meeting that Colombia was becoming very much wrought over the delay in the ratification of the treaty and was considering protesting to the powers unless some action was taken. The treaty, which expresses regret that anything should have happened to mar the friendly relations between the two countries and providing for the payment by the United States of $25,000,000 for Colombia's loss resulting from the taking of the Panama canal zone, was ratified by the Colombian senate many months ago.

The administration also desires to have the Nicaraguan treaty ratified particularly because the government of that country is said to be facing serious financial difficulties unless it can get the money payment provided for in the treaty for the Nicaraguan canal route.

It was understood the president hopes to have both of these ratified before the formal opening of the Panama canal in July so that at that time entire friendship may exist between all the nations in America.

Although administration leaders believe the federal trade commission nominations can be confirmed before March 4, there is certain to be a fight on several of them. No special session of the senate would be called to consider these nominations alone, however, since the president has been informed by his legal advisers that he has the authority to make recess appointments in case the nominations fail at this session.

PROBES OLIVER'S DEATH

Leesburg People Say Blazer Resembles Slain Banker.

Leesburg, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—Roy Blazer, of Ottumwa, Iowa, who claims to be a son of A. D. Oliver, arrived here this morning for the professed purpose of investigating the assassination of Oliver, which occurred February 17. People here who have talked with Blazer are struck by a marked resemblance in voice and manner between him and the slain banker.

It is reported here that G. W. Chance has surrendered to P. C. McDuffie, of Atlanta, attorney for the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, the Oliver policy for $25,000 and that by mutual agreement this policy is to be canceled as to any interest Chance has therein. The amount paid by the company is said to have been $566, which was the figure given by Chance's attorneys.

THOMASVILLE GIRL TO BE NURSE IN WAR

Thomasville, Ga., February 26.—(Special.)—Miss Elizabeth Walters, a graduate of the Thomasville City hospital, leaves today for the Red Cross headquarters in New York, from where she will sail next week for Red Cross work in Europe.

Miss Walters sent in her application for the position some time ago and has been notified that it is accepted, and she must report for duty. She is a native of Germany and has two brothers in the kaiser's army, and it is probable she will be sent somewhere for work in that country.

HELP SHIPPING BILL, HARDWICK IS URGED

Atlanta's Chamber of Commerce Postponed Action Thursday Afternoon.

Judging from the tone of the resolutions that were adopted last Tuesday by various commercial organizations in the state on request of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, Senator Hardwick is being bombarded with some very interesting letters and telegrams.

The Georgia Chamber of Commerce requested all the commercial organizations in the state to take some action on the ship purchasing bill and to let the Georgia senators hear from them.

The Georgia Chamber of Commerce has heard from several cities and in nearly every instance the ship purchasing bill has been indorsed and Senators Smith and Hardwick have been urged to support it.

The cities heard from Thursday were Gainesville, Quitman, Washington, Griffin and Dalton.

Macon refused to take any action.

Columbus had already taken action, but acted again and more emphatically.

Columbus not only acted, but sent a special and personal telegram to Senator Hardwick telling him that he ought to set aside personal views and do what his people of Georgia wanted him to do.

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, through its directors, held a meeting Thursday afternoon and decided to postpone any action on the ship purchasing bill pending further consideration of the subject.

Senator Hardwick has wired the Athens body that he will vote for the bill if it is amended. He could not be applicable only during the present European war.

More reports are expected today.

Alabama "Dry" Leader Holds Conference Here With Dr. Eichelberger

Samuel D. Weakley, ex-supreme court justice of Alabama, was in Atlanta Thursday in conference with the legal department of the Southern Express company and D. Eichelberger, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, concerning the interstate shipment of liquor into states where its sale is prohibited. No definite conclusions were reached, as there are no legal proceedings pending against the express company at this time.

Judge Weakley is just returning from Washington, where he was sent by the Alabama legislature as a member of a committee of five to have a bill introduced in congress prohibiting the United States mail from carrying liquor advertisements, solicitations by letter, circular or otherwise, into any dry state where prohibition laws have been enacted.

DARSEY GETS 2 YEARS; CASE AGAIN APPEALED

Dublin, Ga., February 25.—Joe Darsey, who killed his friend, Watson, more than four years ago, was sentenced to two years for involuntary manslaughter in superior court. It is the way to the United States supreme court on a technicality. The court had refused to accept the verdict at the January term, and a jury was unable to agree on any other verdict, even on the plea of former jeopardy was filed today sentence was passed according to the first verdict.

Darsey's lawyers have appealed the case on the contention that sentence under the law must be passed "as long that the verdict has stood its length." It is now up to the defendant to require him to be punished under it.

F. D. TINSLEY DENIES MISUSE OF BANK FUNDS

Savannah, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—The taking of evidence and argument in the case of Fleming D. Tinsley, charged with misapplying national bank funds, closed in the federal court tonight. Judge Speer will charge the jury tomorrow.

Mr. Tinsley was the only witness for the defense. He surprised his hearers when he said he was 77 years old, as he looks much younger. His defense was that he did not misuse the funds of the bank, but that the firm's confidential man, Percy All, attended to that department of the business and if there was any wrong committed, All was to blame.

If There's An Empty Niche In Your Home, Let Him Fill It

GRADY GARNER.

Grady Garner has only "baby" beauty and an unusual amount of health and strength to aid him in a foundling's precarious existence. Although but three months old, the child has twice been abandoned and the present whereabouts of his parents are unknown.

A few weeks ago a good looking and well dressed young woman left Grady upon a seat in the Terminal station. An officer, who was attracted by the peculiar actions of the woman when she abruptly attempted to disappear among the shifting crowds of the patrons at the station, carried her and the sleeping infant to the police barracks.

There Matron Bohnefield elicited from the reticent woman that the child was her own; that she had been deserted shortly before its birth by her husband, and that she had been unable to scrape together even the necessities of life. Mrs. Garner, according to her story, had never been compelled to work before, and found herself unable to do the simple tasks which she alleged her slight acquaintances in Athens, Ga., procured for her. As a last resort she concluded to leave the infant in the city depot, hoping that some kind person would give it the home she was unable to supply.

The next day in the depot of Athens, where she had promised to return, Mrs. Garner handed the child to an interested woman and stepped out without returning. And she has still eluded the search of the police. Where she and her husband came from and even the birthplace of little Grady are solely matters for conjecture. It is only known that the homeless child possesses the good looks of the mother and the reported sturdiness of the father.

At this point J. M. Hodgson, chairman county commissioners, became interested in the baby. Although they consistently refuse to accept children so young, it was through his influence that the Georgia Children's Home society has undertaken to find Grady Garner a home and foster parents. He is laughing away the days at a temporary shelter in Atlanta, while State superintendent Robert R. McCord, who has offices in the Hurt building, is endeavoring to place him under the care that the social incompetent who bore him could not give.

Atlanta's Unemployed Women Will Be Given Positions Soon

Any Atlanta woman who wishes any kind of woman's work done either in the home or out of it, and who wishes to find a woman to do it, will please make known her wants to any of the following: Mrs. Beaumont Davison, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. William Percy, Mrs. Emily McDougald, Mrs. A. P. Coles, Mrs. A. O. Woodward, representing the committee to create work in the Association to Help Unemployed Women.

Mrs. J. P. McGovern presided over an informal gathering of well-known men and women yesterday, which resulted in preliminary steps in the organization of a movement to give immediate aid to Atlanta's unemployed women. It is proposed to open a bureau of information relative to the work of women, where a market will be established where women who have wares to dispose of can place them on sale; where women who wish to place orders for certain kinds of work can do so, and where the woman employer and woman employee can be brought together.

There was a strong committee appointed to create work for unemployed women, who will reach out among Atlanta's homekeepers who need spring cleaning done, who wish linen embroidered, who wish certain kinds of bread, cake, etc., made, and this committee will make a partial report at the next meeting Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. They are Mrs. Beaumont Davison, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. William Percy, Mrs. A. P. Coles, Mrs. A. O. Woodward, Mrs. Emily McDougald. To look after a place of establishment for association headquarters, Mrs. McDougald and Miss Susan McClellan were appointed. Mr. Cator Woolford, representing the chamber of commerce, was present at the meeting and stressed in an address to the ladies the urgent necessity of something being done, and that at once, to find Atlanta's unemployed women, and he believed the women of the organized forces of Atlanta were the ones to do it.

The meeting yesterday followed the published plan suggested by Miss Susan McClellan, who made an urgent call for a place where unemployed women might go with their wares. She followed by investigating conditions among unemployed women and felt convinced that when the women of Atlanta-at-large were acquainted with conditions they would rally to the help of their sisters, anxious to work, but with no work to do.

While the meeting was in session a message came from the Partridge restaurant, stating that the manager of that restaurant would give 20 per cent of the proceeds of one day in the restaurant to the movement to help unemployed women, the day to be named by the protective association. The offer was accepted, and the ladies will announce the day later.

It is estimated that beyond the usual number of unemployed women there are at present as many as 4,000 women wage-earners in Atlanta out of employment. These represent professional and business women as well as industrial employees, and it is the purpose of the organization through their various departments of helpfulness to aid every department of woman workers.

The committee appointed to create work, that is to get work for unemployed women, request that any Atlanta woman who has any kind of work she wishes done please make known her wants to any member of the committee above named.

APPROVE CAMPAIGN FOR "SAFETY FIRST"

Anti-Track Walking Law Also Indorsed by Chamber of Commerce Committee.

The directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Thursday afternoon approved the report of the committee on public safety, of which Ben Lee Cree is chairman, in starting a campaign for "safety first" in Atlanta. They also approved the anti-track walking campaign being waged by that committee.

A letter will be sent by that committee to every special trade or labor body in the state and also to every daily newspaper, the idea being to start a campaign of education which will lead to some legislation on this subject. In the letter it is stated:

"After considering replies as received, it would seem that the main thing to accomplish is to arouse the public sentiment on the subject, because the public must understand the danger before it would be possible to enforce any law on the subject.

"However, it is believed that one very good way to attract public attention to the matter is to enforce and prosecute, thus making it a misdemeanor to walk upon or along the tracks or right-of-way of any railroad company, also to hold or swing to any locomotive, engine, or freight or passenger car. It is hardly probable that the legislature of 1915 will pass such a law, but if brought before them each session and the Woman's club, the Civic league and the Chamber of Commerce bear up on the importance of the same, the time will eventually come when legislation will demand more specific legislation, just as is the case abroad, where the government would not allow children to jeopardize themselves by walking on tracks.

"It would doubtless help if the operation of automobiles be solicited in the manner suggested and if the proposed laws be put on the statute books without the need to lend point to the manufacturers' appeal to their readers.

"Further suggestions are solicited and advice as to any steps taken would be appreciated."

SLAYER OF GLEATON SENTENCED TO HANG AFTER SHORT TRIAL

Cordele, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—In the record breaker held in court in the Crisp superior court, consuming only thirty-five minutes, Luther Stevens, confessed assassin of R. D. Gleaton, was today convicted of the murder and sentenced by Judge W. F. George to be hanged on March 18. Though he went to the stand for a few minutes, Stevens declined to make a statement.

C. P. Moore, a private detective of Atlanta, testified that he was called to testify for the state. Moore stated that Stevens had confessed to the crime and that Stevens' brother, Negro was lodged for safekeeping. Moore stated further that Stevens told him that he was provoked to the crime by Arnold Hall, his uncle who twice urged him to kill the white man. The only words spoken by Stevens on the stand were to confirm the statement of the detective.

In passing sentence on the negro Judge George commended highly the relatives and friends of the dead man, who was recently county treasurer and quite prominent, for allowing the law to take its course in this case.

JOHN D. TESTIFIES IN REGARD TO TAXES

New York, February 25.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., testified in the investigation at his home at Pocantico Hills in an effort to avoid paying a personal property tax for 1913 levied by the city of Cleveland, Ohio, authorities. Mr. Rockefeller testified that he had not been a resident of Ohio for the last fifteen years and consequently could not be taxed in that state.

The examination occupied but a few minutes. Mr. Rockefeller testified he moved to New York from Cleveland in 1897 and purchased his present home here. He said he had regularly been assessed for his proper authorities in this state and had paid his taxes regularly.

On June 24, 1913, he said, he went to his summer home at Forest Hill, East Cleveland, which he occupied usually from that date. He intended to return to New York, as was his usual custom, the following October, he added, but that the illness of Mrs. Rockefeller and her sister, Miss Spellman, prevented. He left for Ohio to remain in Cleveland until the first Monday in February, 1914.

H. D. Sims, Mr. Rockefeller's secretary, testified he had made transportation arrangements for the return of the Rockefeller family in October, but cancelled them when a physician advised that it might endanger Mrs. Rockefeller's health to be moved.

Mr. Rockefeller was assessed on $311,000,000 personal estate in Ohio on the ground that he had spent the greater part of the year ending February 1, 1914, there. He is seeking a permanent injunction against enforcement of the levy.

CURRY FOUND GUILTY OF ASSAULT ON GIRL

Hazlehurst, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—Jeff Davis superior court closed this afternoon. The last case to be tried was the case of the state against Robert Curry, charged with criminal assault upon a little negro girl. After consuming most of the day the jury found Curry guilty of an assault, and recommended that he be punished as for a misdemeanor. This is the first case of this kind in the history of this section of the state. The defendant was sentenced to twelve months on the chaingang.

The jury in the case of the state against Clayton Stanley for the killing of his brother-in-law and stepfather, Wheeler, are hopelessly divided, and report and rumor have it that eight are for conviction and four for acquittal. It is not known whether Judge Highsmith will declare a mistrial tonight or not.

NEGROES STEAL $3,000 FROM AGENT AT CAMILLA

Pelham, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—News has just been received in Pelham that two negroes stole from Assistant Agent B. L. Wood, of Camilla, late this afternoon a package of money amounting to $3,000.

Particulars are meager, but according to the report, Mr. Wood had stepped in the depot and while in there one negro sold tickets to the ticket agent and laid the package of money down near the ticket window. He then stepped a few feet away to sell tickets to some white people, and when he looked for his money, it was gone, and two negroes were seen running away from the depot.

The news was telephoned over the county and officers are making a determined effort to apprehend the negroes.

OLD BREAD PRICES WILL BE RESTORED

New York, February 25.—The wholesale price of bread, which was recently raised to 5 cents a loaf, is to be restored to 4 cents, according to reports published today. The fact that there was much agitation when the cost of bread was raised, followed by investigations into the bread industry, is one reason given in the report for the plan to restore the old prices. Another reason is that most of the smaller baking companies instead of following the lead of the big concerns, continued to sell bread at 5 cents to their retail trade.

The attorney general's inquiry into the increased cost of wheat and bread will be resumed tomorrow.

BIG CAMPAIGN PLANNED TO CARRY MACON BONDS

Chamber of Commerce and Bibb County Medical Society Unite Forces.

Macon, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—The Macon Chamber of Commerce and the Bibb County Medical society have united their forces in the fight to carry the $300,000 city bond issue on March 9, and will open up headquarters on Second street shortly. The hospital committee has been at work some time, but the chamber of commerce committee has just been organized with Wallace Miller as chairman. He has named ward captains and a systematic campaign is to be conducted in getting out a sufficient number of votes to carry the bonds.

A total of 940 votes will be required, which is two-thirds of the registered voters. Of the bonds $180,000 are to be devoted to taking up the indebtedness of the Macon hospital and in enlarging the institution by erecting two new buildings. $120,000 is to be used for street paving, the amount going to pay the city's one-third of the cost, which means that Macon will get $360,000 worth of new paving if the bonds carry. The remaining $30,000 of the bonds will be used in building sewers, one important feature of which will be the sewering of the Vineville branch, one of the worst menaces to the health of the city that now exists.

Boy Slayer Sentenced.

Macon, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—John C. Martin, alias Johnnie Kates, a negro boy who, last November, killed Prentice Jones, 12-year-old son of W. H. Jones, oil plant agent, by striking the youth on the head with a brick, has pleaded guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter and has been sentenced to the state reformatory for an indefinite period. The boy was indicted on a charge of murder, but since he was less than 16 years old Judge Mathews decided it would be best to send him to the state reformatory.

Escaped Convict Captured.

Macon, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—Fred C. Thompson, a young white man, who escaped from the county chain gang yesterday, was captured today and returned to the custody of the superintendent, who will take measures to see that he does not get away again.

Thompson was convicted of stealing electric light globes from the county courthouse and electric fans from rooms in different office buildings, and was sentenced to serve a year on the gang. While at work yesterday afternoon in East Macon he managed to escape.

GIVE "SQUARE DEAL" TO THE SHORT ROADS URGES C. M. CANDLER

In a letter to be addressed to Senators Smith and Hardwick, Georgia senators at Washington, Chairman C. Murphy Candler, of the Georgia railroad commission, will discuss the appeal for a "square deal" that are being made by short line railroads in the state in the matter of compensation for mail service.

Representatives of these roads state that the pay allowed them by the federal statute does not amount to the face of the single passenger fare, and the statute requires the roads to equip one-third of a car for a clerk and the handling of mail, transferring the mail to and from the postoffices.

Rogers Urged for Director.

SPLIT IN THE RANKS OF THE SUFFRAGISTS

New York, February 25.—The Woman's Political union, which is headed by Mrs. Harriett Stanton Blatch, has withdrawn from the National American Woman Suffrage association, according to a statement given out at suffrage headquarters tonight. This action was made known in a letter to Mrs. Henry Wade Rogers, treasurer of the National American Woman Suffrage association, by Mrs. Kenneth D. Brannon, treasurer of the Woman's Political union.

According to Mrs. Brannon the executive board of the Woman's Political union decided February 19 that the union should withdraw from its membership with the national association. Mrs. Brannon is quoted in the letter as saying the reasons that led to the decision were the need of all the union's funds for campaign work in New York; the fact that it did not agree with the national association in its support of the Shafroth-Palmer amendment on the woman's suffrage proposition in congress.

BAPTISTS HEAR ABLE ADDRESSES

President Pickard, of Mercer, and Dr. L. G. Hardman Make Eloquent Addresses at Meeting of Laymen.

The layman in the prayer meeting, in the Sunday school and as a supporter of church benevolences was treated of as a vitalizing agency of the church in the closing hours of the Georgia Baptist Men's meet Thursday. The Christian citizen's duty in support of the missions in the home community was shown to be fundamental to the balanced growth of the church, especially in the south.

W. W. Gaines, a prominent lawyer and churchman of Atlanta, who has been active in this movement for the awakening of laymen to leadership in the evangelical enterprises of the Baptist church, presided over the afternoon session.

In discussing the office of the layman in the prayer meeting, the Rev. Gilbert Dobbs, of Commerce, said that the church's strongest characters were to be found in and were developed in this weekly assembly.

Mission Work Needed.

In discussing "The Sunday School and Missions," A. W. Evans, of Sandersville, said that the Sunday school should be mission work as a regular part of its endeavor.

F. H. Leavell, of Atlanta, Baptist Young People's union field secretary for Georgia, described the Baptist Young People's union as a vitalizing agency in the growth of missions.

The need of pastors and of trained theologians was vividly impressed upon the laymen present by W. L. Pickard, president of Mercer university, who spoke on "Training the Young Preachers." In this connection he called upon the Christian business men not to forget the great importance of maintaining those funds set apart for the assistance of poor ministerial students.

The benevolences of the Baptist church, which comprises the care of orphans, church hospitals and funds for the support of aged or disabled ministers and their wives, were presented to the laymen from a practical viewpoint by F. S. Etheridge, of Jackson; the Rev. J. M. Long, superintendent of the Georgia Baptist hospital, and the Rev. E. C. Dargan, of Macon.

Dr. Hardman Presides.

In speaking of the duties of the Christian citizen, Dr. L. D. G. Hardman, of Commerce, who presided over the deliberations of the evening meeting, made a talk of unusual interest. He showed how the duties of such a man touched every phase of life.

"Because a large number of the foreigners who come to our shores return to their native lands," said Dr. B. D. Gray, of Atlanta, corresponding secretary of the home mission board of the Southern Baptist convention, "we can become a world force by evangelizing them here."

Dr. W. G. Powell, of Louisville, Ky., secretary of the Kentucky Baptist state mission board, said that the state missions were fundamental in the growth of Christianity at home because of the personal character of the work conducted.

Morning Session.

Thursday morning's session of the Georgia Baptist Laymen's association was taken up principally with talks bearing upon church work and church finances.

E. H. Clarke, of Moultrie, chairman of the meeting, spoke on "Business in Religion."

"Weekly Giving" was the subject of a talk by Rev. J. E. Hampton, of Gainesville.

J. T. Henderson, of Atlanta, spoke on "Every Member Canvass."

"Associated Campaigns" was the subject of an address, by C. H. Westbrook, of Griffin.

The last set address of the morning was by Rev. J. Fred Eden, of Toccoa, and his subject was "Grouping Churches for Pastoral Efficiency."

At the noon hour, Dr. Wilbur Chapman, who is conducting a revival in Atlanta, addressed the meeting, speaking of the work that the church must do to bring souls into the kingdom of God.

L. & N. IS ACCUSED OF PAYING MILLIONS

to the same end in a wider field, and what amount of money the Louisville and Nashville and related roads have contributed in blocking the entrance of competing roads, through political agents or through public sentiment favorable to their cause.

Wilfully Restrained Competition.

To all these questions the commission gives an affirmative answer. It qualifies its declaration that the Louisville and Nashville wilfully restrained competition by pointing out that in some instances it was trying to meet the competition of other large systems.

In the recital of political activities of the roads, the commission announces its inability to set forth all the money these carriers have expended in political and publicity work, but the items which its investigators discovered and which it has placed in the report under the head of political contributions run into the millions. In connection with the Tennessee Railroad association, formed by carriers in 1886 to combat adverse legislation in Tennessee, the report is specific in its allegations.

"The various payments made on account of the Tennessee Railroad association by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway and the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company," said the report, "were to a large extent made to state officials and legislators of Tennessee, municipal officers of Nashville, political lobbyists and attorneys. Investigation showed that payments made by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis in this connection aggregating over $20,000, could be definitely assigned to persons who merely or at most a holding public office, but the total amount paid to such persons was no doubt much in excess of this sum."

Money for Politics or Publicity.

Here are some of the disclosures of money placed in the column of political or publicity expenditures:

Payments aggregating $32,596 for "purposes mentioned in the resolution," between September 1, 1906 and July 1, 1914, by the Louisville and Nashville, as shown in its accounts.

Expenditures by the Louisville and Nashville in the same period for maintaining political and legislative agents, $23,274.41.

For creating public sentiment in favor of the plans of the Louisville and Nashville in the same period, the commission reports that the railroad expended $59,322.48, of which $53,000 was used in a publicity campaign in Alabama to mould public opinion through the press. Part of the rest was contributed to finance a campaign in Louisiana to prevent the change of tax laws. In this connection to preserve an outward appearance of indifference the funds were placed in the hands of a bank to be disbursed by it as if in furtherance of banking interests.

The Louisville and Nashville paid to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis $120,198.44 for the Tennessee Railroad association. This was in addition to other large expenditures in connection with that association," the commission said.

The report says that $295,000 in vouchers was issued by the Louisville and Nashville in the 1906-1914 period to various persons concerning which the accounts gave no information other than that the expenditures were for "special" services and expenses. Other vouchers aggregating $67,722.20 were issued from 1900 to 1911 under the direction of the legal or executive departments of the road without the purpose being stated. One of these vouchers was for more than $20,000, and all were in excess of $1,000.

Large Expenditures.

The commission gives an instance of one special ledger account recording large expenditures, the purpose of which could not be learned. It records that an account was opened in the name of the Immigration and Industrial Association of Alabama, in 1907. "This," says the report, "records a cash advance to George W. Jones, assistant district attorney in Montgomery, Ala., made under authority of the first vice president. . . . The nature of this account is indicated by notations on the treasurer's statements of cash receipts entered therein, such as 'proportion of expenses, account adjourned session of Alabama legislature.'"

No information could be gained, the report says, concerning big "suspense" accounts opened in banks. "Under the accounting rules prescribed by the commission," says the report, "the keeping of such vague accounts at the present time would subject the carrier to prosecution."

Of these accounts the report says further: "It seems clear, that for some reason the officials who were responsible for these entries deemed it expedient to conceal not only in the original entry, but from those engaged in this investigation, the real purpose for which these expenditures were made."

The accounts disclose expenditures of $13,137.23 from 1887 to 1914 in maintaining political or legislative agents, and $856.50 for the purpose of creating public sentiment. In addition to these items the commission discovered other disbursements aggregating $498,668, "the purposes of which are concealed." Part of this was collected from other railroads.

Bought Bonds of Newspaper.

The report says that from 1894 to 1907 carriers expended about $560,000 in connection with the Tennessee Railroad association, of which the net contribution of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis appears to have been about $367,000.

The report says that "a new ledger account" in the name of "American Publishing company," was opened by transferring $40,300.70 from this carriers' account with the Tennessee Railroad association. The report names an item of $24,750 for the purchase of bonds of the American Publishing company, which, the report says, appears to have owned a newspaper known as The American and published in Nashville. During the years "1894, 1895 and 1896," the report says, "it appears to have been the official organ of the railroads operating in Tennessee."

"Accounts opened in 1906," the report says, "show that the carriers expended large sums in an attempt to prevent the city of Nashville from aiding in the construction of the Nashville and Clarksville railroad, now the Tennessee Central."

The Louisville and Nashville, chiefly since 1880, has acquired controlling interest in more than 100 railroad properties, one of the obvious purposes of which, the commission says, has been to restrain competition in the territory which it serves. "One thing is perfectly clear," says the report, "and that is that it has been the consistent policy of the Louisville and Nashville not to prevent the development of competition."

The report says that terminal arrangements at Nashville, Knoxville and other points in Louisville and Nashville territory are such that shippers lack benefits which they might expect if there were greater competition. It says that the Louisville and Nashville, while serving the ports of New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola, seems primarily interested in the development of Pensacola and attempts to prevent traffic movement through the other two ports. This practice, the report alleges, results in direct restraint of competition not only between the carriers at these ports, but also between water carriers from them.

The Coast Line and L. & N.

The commission points out that although the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company has taken steps to loose its control of the Louisville and Nashville since the present investigation began, such control for all practical purposes still exists. Three men, Henry Walters, Michael Jenkins and Waldo Newcomer, on September 25, 1914, it says, held or controlled more than 115,000 shares of the capital stock of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company approximating 17 per cent of that outstanding and controlled also about 27 per cent through the Atlantic Coast Line company, a holding corporation. Examination of proxies given Henry Walters since 1909, the report says, shows that he has been able to control from 21 to 32 per cent of the outstanding capital stock of the Coast Line railroad in this way. These facts, the commission says, show that Messrs. Walters, Jenkins and Newcomer still virtually control the Atlantic Coast Line and its subsidiaries, including the Louisville and Nashville.

Examination of such records as the commission was allowed to see did not disclose any arrangement between the Louisville and Nashville and the Coast Line for the purpose of controlling traffic.

"There is no doubt," the report says, "that as to certain traffic the Louisville and Nashville and the Atlantic Coast Line are competitors."

Ownership of N. C. & St. L.

The report says that on December 31, 1912, the Louisville and Nashville owned about 72 per cent of the capital stock of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway and that a traffic agreement providing for a division of territory between these two railroads was made in April, 1906, and apparently still is in effect. This has resulted in a refusal by the smaller roads to join independent lines in their efforts to form through routes which would be advantageous to the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, the commission declares.

The report says that a preliminary analysis indicates that the costs of the Louisville and Nashville's road account "is heavily burdened with charges which do not represent actual construction costs."

From incomplete information the commission concludes that at least $16,000,000 shown in the costs of road accounts covers items which should not be charged as a part of the costs of this carrier's road. Of the $16,000,000 mentioned, the report says, $6,500,000 was to provide a surplus that a stock dividend of 100 per cent might be paid, that $2,640,000 was credited to the same account "for reasons not stated" and that $1,422,784 was to raise the book value of stock above the actual cost of acquirement. The 100 per cent dividend was provided for, the report says, by raising the book value of certain assets.

The report comments:

"As the commission, in its annual reports has previously pointed out, only by the fullest publicity and public supervision of stock and bond issues may such increase of the capital accounts of carriers at the expense of the public be prevented."

The report says that the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis apparently has improperly charged to its property investment account an amount aggregating $4,800,000 for stock and cash dividends and discounts on purchased stocks and bonds.

MARIST COLLEGE BOYS PLEASE LARGE CROWDS

Minstrel songs, dances and gymnastic exercises featured the entertainment given by the Marist college cadets yesterday to large audiences.

Lester Fine and Clifford Daniel in their clever rendering of the songs, and William Caverly and Leonard Putnam in female impersonations, scored.

The music was furnished by a brass sextette from the college band, and gave a splendid rendering of the songs, and a fine medley in the "Olio." In the success of the minstrel, Major Schmidt upheld the reputation he enjoys in Atlanta in the production of amateur theatricals.

Mr. Bean gave a splendid exhibition of the work done in the gymnasium in wand and Indian club drills and acrobatic work on the buck and parallel bars.

A pleasing feature was the artistic rendering of the famous dance, "The Butterfly," by Miss Sarah Caverly.

Recent figures give the number of pleasure and commercial automobiles registered in this country as 1,735,369.

PURE FOOD DOES NOT PREVENT POISONOUS GASES.

All Could Be Methuselahs If We Did Not Shorten Life by Self-Poisoning.

All food eaten has some waste, unused particles left in the stomach undigested. From this waste uric acid generates, and when uric acid gets in the blood stream it poisons the system. This is termed autotoxemia. Indigestion, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, languidness, loss of energy and a weakened physical condition result and make the system vulnerable to disease. Eliminate autotoxemia, and we might live hundreds of years.

School in Flames Panic Is Averted By Brave Teacher

Miss Anna Campbell, Principal of Lakewood Heights School, Is Congratulated by Superintendent Merry.

While 450 pupils of the Lakewood Heights school, on Sawtell avenue, just outside the city limits, were humming their A B C's or studiously engaged at other tasks, Monday morning fire broke out in the roof and was burning fiercely when a frantic woman living in the neighborhood rushed in and cried fire!

Miss Anna Campbell, principal of the school, happened to be nearest the school bell when the excited person entered. Miss Campbell did not go into hysterics. Instead, she warned her own class to keep quiet, and then reaching for the school gong she gave the signal for a fire drill.

Instantly, the 450 children dropped their slates and books, and formed into line in their classrooms. At another signal they marched out of the burning building and onto the lawn.

There they realized that the fire signal had been given for a sure enough fire, and when their excitement died down they were allowed to seek spots in the neighborhood where they could view the spectacle of the burning roof.

The janitor and a number of the oldest boys of the school climbed to the roof and put the flames out with water and a fire extinguisher.

The building suffered only through the damage of the roof.

County Superintendent E. C. Merry was immediately notified of the fire, and when he learned of the heroism of Miss Campbell he personally congratulated her on behalf of himself and for the county board.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous, over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, is entitled to ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

Musical At Home.

Miss Nan Stephens' hospitality, always distinctive and delightful, had expression yesterday in a musical at home, when a number of friends were invited to meet Mrs. R. S. Brodhead, of Philadelphia, the guest of Miss Stephens, and Miss Daisy Martin and hear some beautiful music.

Miss Stephens' home on Briarcliff road, which has a colonial interior of attractive plan, was an inviting one, spring flowers, all of them cultivated in the home garden and hot houses.

Jonquils were a gay contrast with the brown and tan tones of the music room furnishings, and in the drawing room and dining room were growing hyacinths and freesias. In the dining room the table centerpiece was a pink azalea of unusual grace, the candles had pink empire shades and the candies and frozen punch were pink.

Miss Stephens wore a white brocade crepe with a flower design in old blue and black. Mrs. Brodhead was becomingly gowned in black net heavily embroidered in jet and crystals and made over white satin. Miss Martin wore black chiffon over white satin.

Miss Clyde Brodhead, the lovely school girl daughter of the honor guest, wore a smart taffetas gown in flame color.

Assisting in entertaining were a group of Miss Stephens' artistic friends, Mrs. Peyton H. Todd, soprano; Mr. Walter P. Stanley, pianist; Dr. Zoegeffel-Quellenstein, bass; Miss Eda Bartholomew, accompanist, and little Miss Joanne Slifer, pianist.

Assisting were Misses Grace and Frances Stephens and Miss Allie Candler, who served punch, and Miss Mattie Slaton, Miss Nell Phillips, Miss Katherine Wootten, Miss Fannie Turner, Miss Daisy Martin, Miss Louise Dooly, Miss Mary Moore, Mrs. A. H. Spain, Mrs. O. K. Slifer, Mrs. W. E. Foster and Mrs. A. H. Hynds.

Tea at Druid Hills.

The tea-dance at Druid Hills Saturday afternoon will be one of the bright occasions of the week. Among those who will entertain are Mr. and Mrs. Guy Woolford, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bidwell, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Paine, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Muse, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adair.

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. William Lawson Peel will entertain at tea this afternoon in honor of Madame Dvaneport, who is receiving a cordial welcome from her friends in the city, and Miss Catherine Glover, Atlanta's brilliant magazine writer, who is at present visiting relatives in the city.

To Mr. and Mrs. Guernsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Chipley gave a beautiful dinner party last evening at their home on Wesley avenue in honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Guernsey, of New York.

In their honor Mrs. Walter Howard gives a tea this afternoon at the residence of Judge and Mrs. Newman, and Mr. and Mrs. Linton Hopkins entertain for them at dinner tonight.

To Miss Lamb.

Miss Mattie Lamb returned yesterday to Norfolk after spending a few days with her father, Mr. E. T. Lamb, at the Argyle Terrace. She was delightfully entertained in an informal way.

On Tuesday Miss Lamb was the honor guest at 5 o'clock tea at the Drifting club, Miss Dorothy Harman the hostess. Miss Harman had as her guests the young ladies in the house parts of which she was a member, given recently by Mr. Edwin T. Lamb, Jr., and Mr. Conkey Whitehead at Helenwood, Tenn. Miss Lamb, Miss Marion Atchison, Miss Rosalie Davis, Miss Virginia Lipscomb and Miss Jessie McKee completed the Miss Harman's group of guests.

On Wednesday Miss Rosalie Davis entertained the young ladies of the house party at luncheon at the Capital City club, and on Wednesday afternoon they were the guests of Miss Virginia Lipscomb at the tea-dance at the Driving club.

Song Recital.

Miss Margaret Haverty, soprano, assisted by Miss Helen Owen, pianist, will present an interesting program of music at the Atlanta School of Music Saturday afternoon at 2:45, this event to be an artistic exposition of the student work of the two talented young women.

They have found time, in spite of their social interests, to make substantial progress in their study of music, and their friends will enjoy this auspicious opportunity to hear them.

Terrace Dance.

The fortnightly informal dance at the Georgian Terrace will be a bright event of this evening.

Marriage of the Tots.

"The Marriage of the Tots," or "Jennie June Wedding," is to be an interesting event Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the East Atlanta Methodist church. This is to be the social wedding of the season, and will be given by over sixty children from three to ten years.

Everything will be carried out accordingly to the most approved wedding costumes. The music will be a charming feature of the entertainment rendered by the "Tots." A whole evening of fun. Admission, adults, 25 cents; children, 15 cents.

Missionary Society.

Following a business meeting of the Young People's Missionary society of St. John's church, Friday night, February 26, there will be a social program. An interesting feature of the evening will be a debate: Resolved, That from the evangelistic standpoint more good can be done through educational institutions than medical institutions. Everybody invited.

Faculty Recital.

Mr. Georg Lindner, violinist; Mrs. Mary Lovelace-Hirst, soprano, and Miss Eda Bartholomew, accompanist, will be heard in a recital on Friday evening, February 26, at the Washington seminary. The friends of the artists, the patrons and friends of the school and others interested are invited.

Noteworthy features will be Mr. Lindner's playing of the Mendelssohn concerto, "Opus 64," and the "Ballade et Polonaise de Concert," by Vieuxtemps.

Afternoon Bridge.

Mrs. Walter Prince Stanley will give a small bridge party Monday afternoon at her home on the Prado, in compliment to her guest, Miss Florence Brown, of New Haven, Conn., and for Mrs. Robert Brodhead, of Philadelphia, Pa., the guest of Miss Nan Stephens and Miss Daisy Martin.

At Hotel Imperial.

The weekly novelty dance will take place at the Imperial hotel Friday evening and many new novelties will be given, among them the silver loving cup for the lucky dancing couple. An exhibition of "The Opera Waltz" will be given by Robert J. Emory, assisted by Miss Mildred Day. The dances will be continued for several weeks.

Mrs. Selman Hostess.

Mrs. James T. Selman was hostess at an enjoyable forty-two party Monday afternoon at her apartments in the Winturn Court. The decorations of the rooms were suggestive of Washington's birthday, while red carnations and ferns were also used effectively.

Miss Julia Stokes made top score, and Miss Florie Griffin cut the consolation. Both received pretty souvenirs of the occasion.

After the game a delicious salad course and ices were served.

In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Selman were hosts at a card party, the prize winners being Mrs. M. J. Wright and Mr. W. R. Anglin.

Alliance Francaise.

At the meeting of the Alliance Francaise this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the University school, Mme. Slifer will speak of the official lecturer, Andre Le Breton who will deliver a lecture on "Romanticism," on March 16, under the auspices of the Alliance Francaise.

Mr. Le Breton will be accompanied by his charming wife.

For Visitors.

Mrs. Marshall Clarke Johnson entertained informally at luncheon yesterday at her home in Ansley Park for Miss Miriam Clemens, of Philadelphia, the guest of Mrs. Malcolm Fleming, and for Miss Mildred Hazen, of East Orange, N. J., who is visiting Miss Aurelia Speer. Mrs. Shallenburger completed the party.

Dancing Party.

Miss Frances Ellis will entertain at a dancing party Saturday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis, in Ansley Park.

For Mrs. Mitchell.

Mrs. W. W. Austell entertained at a delightful spend-the-day party yesterday in compliment to Mrs. O. E. Mitchell, of Portland, Oregon, formerly of Atlanta.

The guests, who included friends who once lived in Cartersville, were Mrs. John Henderson, Mrs. Ben Paget, Sr., Mrs. George Muse, Mrs. John Akin, Mrs. Fanny Shepard Ramsaur, Mrs. Fanny Clayton, Mrs. Alex C. Smith, Mrs. Annie Cone, Mrs. Mark Scott, Mrs. Ben Porter and Mrs. Alice Shropshire.

For Mrs. Carrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Jones will entertain at a small dinner party Saturday evening at home for Mrs. W. F. Carrington, of Virginia, the guest of Mrs. Bolling Jones.

Matinee Party.

Miss Mary Moore will give a matinee party Tuesday in compliment to Mrs. Brodhead, of Philadelphia, the guest of Miss Nan Stephens and Miss Daisy Martin.

MEETINGS

The Inman Park Students' club will meet this morning at 10:30 at the home of Mrs. R. C. Little, 95 Cleburne avenue. Rev. H. R. Maye will be present and talk on his travels in the Holy Land.

Atlanta chapter, No. 57, O. E. S., will hold its regular meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Masonic temple. All members are urged to be present. Visitors from other chapters extended a cordial welcome. This meeting will be a social one, a program has been arranged by Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, chairman of entertainment committee.

A business meeting of Agnes Scott Alumnae association will be held at the college this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

FLOYD JAIL DELIVERY PREVENTED BY SHERIFF

Rome, Ga., February 25.—(Special.) Thirty negro prisoners confined in the Floyd county jail organized a mutiny and endeavored to escape yesterday morning. They tore down the grating between their cells, and started for a break in the north wall of the prison by which five white prisoners recently escaped. They seriously injured a negro youth named Ware, and beat him severely. The noise they made, however, attracted the attention of Sheriff Barron and he drove the negroes back into their cells with a drawn revolver.

JACKSON ASKS MAYOR TO MAKE PUBLIC LETTER

and, seeking to be such, I can only regret what has been brought to my attention by the papers."

JACKSON REPLIES.

Marion Jackson, the only representative of the Men and Religion who would speak in reply to Dr. Atkinson's arraignment, was seen by a reporter for The Constitution in the Chapman-Alexander tabernacle, where he was busily engaged in the little room in the rear of the pulpit whispering words of encouragement to new converts.

"I would rather say nothing," he declared in presence of the group of converts, some of them young boys and girls, some sobbing, all tearful and morose. Later, when he left the room to make space for new-coming converts, he added:

"But I do say this: I regret exceedingly the source of this new attack, but welcome it for reason that it will set people to thinking. Interest will lag in a movement like ours unless there is a fight on hand. And, by this, I don't mean that we intend to do battle with Dr. Atkinson.

"Dr. Atkinson is no doubt a good man, who means well. But his hostile views will not in the least influence our bulletins or our religious efforts. No! We will not take Dr. Atkinson's task for his criticism of us. That is not our policy. We will continue along our same lines, varying none whatever."

CHALLENGE TO MAYOR.

It was at this juncture that Mr. Jackson issued the challenge for Mayor Woodward to carry out his threat to publish the personal letter directed to Mr. Jackson in answer to the "Open Letter" bulletin.

"I am surprised that Dr. Atkinson would chimpion Mayor Woodward. We do not deny having a fight on the matter of the mayor and his ambitions to interfere with the welfare of the police department. He is inimical to the policies of Chief Beavers, and to the chief himself, although he did, at one time, make printed denial that he had a fight on Beavers.

"In this regard, I most earnestly wish the mayor would publish the letter to me, in which he declared that there had not been a time since the famous dictograph episode during the early days of the Frank case that he had not wanted to get Beavers; 'and would have got him had it been in his power.'

"Nothing would please us better than to have Mr. Woodward publish this letter. He has often threatened to do it. Did it already in other chapters extended a cordial welcome. This meeting will be a social one, a program has been arranged by Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, chairman of entertainment committee.

BULLETINS DEFENDED.

This attitude of the Men and Religion and the previous antagonism between that organization and the mayor, shows plainly that Dr. Atkinson's startling address has developed a keenly interesting political, as well as religious aspect.

"Dr. Atkinson charges that your bulletins are libelous," Mr. Jackson was told. "Do you consider any of them so?"

"We would have never published them in that case," he replied.

"Do you consider them unfair in any regard?"

"Positively not."

Whereupon he went into detail to explain the authorship of each bulletin. Each bulletin is first written by Mr. Jackson, then submitted to the publicity committee of the Men and Religion, which is composed of Dr. C. B. Wilmer, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal church; Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist; John J. Eagan, capitalist, and Mr. Jackson.

The bulletin must be passed upon unanimously by the committee, he stated. A majority vote only will not permit its publication. It must be rehashed and revamped until it meets with the complete approval of the committee. Sometimes, Mr. Jackson said, they are changed and redone until but the theme remains his own.

OBJECTS TO METHODS.

Dr. Atkinson, who has been dean of St. Philips Cathedral for, perhaps, six months, and who came from New York, said that he did not doubt the sincerity or the earnestness of Dr. Chapman's efforts, but that he only disagreed with some of his methods. "There is a better way of doing everything," he declared, "and I do not think that the evangelistic Dr. Chapman is conforming to this rule in entirety.

"I do not pretend to be able to show him proper way than his own, although if he will come to my sermon next Sunday night, I have but little doubt that I might be able to convince him of a better way of procedure. The people true regard for the Holy Father. Now, Dr. Chapman, other things, the right as a wayfaring citizen, protest against the emblazonment in gaudy letters of the name of my Father in flaming billboard advertisements."

WOODWARD LAUDED BY DEAN ATKINSON

"The Men and Religion are not content to condone the many unwarranted acts committed by him and his administration, but they overstep the boundaries of reason by accusing him of things he is going to do," said Dr. Atkinson in his address before the Ad Men. "It is up to the Ad Men of Atlanta to urge upon the clergy of the city and all manful workers to cease from this unwarranted advertising that is not only unjust, but is detrimental to the community."

Pays Tribute to Mayor.

Dr. Atkinson began his attack upon the Men and Religion tactics by first paying a bright tribute to Mayor Woodward and his administration. He declared the mayor, perhaps, the best fitted man for the office in the city. One statement was to the effect that most preachers, given the reins of a city's government, would not be expected to play anything short of havoc. "I do not know of the mayor's personal morals or habits," said he in this regard. "I have never looked into them. I couldn't care for anyone to exploit mine. As an executive, I have found Mayor Woodward doing a clean, sound, progressive work for the city of Atlanta. He is a capable man, manly and courageous, and he is an invaluable asset to a municipality like ours.

"This is a model city—it is the most model I have ever seen. I have had occasion, at time after time, to study its night life. I have seen only one drunken man, a negro, who was holding an argument with a policeman. I did not know the policemen. It might have been the chief, for all I know.

"Morally, Atlanta is the most orderly city of my knowledge. I really can't see what more these men want (meaning the Men and Religion). I think the mayor has given the city an upright, beneficial administration. If I were in his place, I would swear out a writ for criminal libel against the perpetrators of these serial advertisements.

"They are libelous. They are bad advertising. Their originators are misguided. There are good men in all that is true, but they are acting unwisely under unwise plans. You Ad Men should go to your preachers and your public-spirited men and point out the inadvisability of these methods, the damage they do the community.

Should Encourage Mayor.

"The mayor, instead of being slandered by 'good' men, should be encouraged by sound, manly and robust workers for the welfare of the municipality. You should discourage this sort of wrong advertising. It is unfair, to say the least. Instead of seeking to dismantle, as they certainly are doing by these tactics, they should work in harmony, co-operate, encourage. The mayor impresses me as the sort of man who would work in utter accord with any movement containing the spirit of municipal betterment.

"Don't think I am knocking these good men. I am merely knocking their unwise tactics. I want to show them where they have planned and acted unwisely. They should be more manly with their efforts; more constructive."

Dr. Atkinson's fling at the Chapman-Alexander revival was more or less in the nature of an attack upon exaggerated methods of evangelism. He deplored the adornment of the big billboards in front of the Chapman tabernacle with "Get Right With God" and other such phrases. He denounced them as slangy and entirely out of keeping with the spirit of true religion.

"For any minister to probe into your private affairs; to denounce your lodge; club; to judge your personal connections, is utterly beyond his province. I say this same thing of ministers collectively. I do it with a feeling of reaction; I realize I will have to fight. Not that I am the only man in Atlanta with nerve to 'break the ice,' to take the initiative. It is time it is being done. The welfare of our civic progress demands it.

"I don't mean to disparage the efforts of these good men conducting the revival meetings here, but I do not advocate their taking advantage of the mechanics of emotion, and of employing some methods I have noted in their campaign. I would urge that they stand up manfully for God and God's word and do the thing that is strong and not distasteful—then they will not have to lead a lot of weak and snivelling men to hit the 'sawdust trail' in a mood of hysteria.

"Give God the best you have. That is all He can ask."

Favors Public Dance Hall.

The minister's advocacy of a public dance hall was obviously received with commendation, as he had barely launched upon the subject before a wave of ovation spread through the guests.

"I refer the dance hall idea to you, Mr. Mayor," he said, turning to Mayor Woodward, who was present, "as one of the best prospective assets the city can have in the safety of our morals and the morals of our young ones. It would keep the young men and women off the streets, out of temptation, it would give them something pleasant to employ their time. It would do much to transform their habits. It would be conducive to play, the one great sustaining element in all human lives.

"Keep them from hell instead of letting them go and then try to bring them back. We need a municipal playhouse with a continuous performance; we need a dramatic institution where our young people can learn to play instead of being to content themselves with watching others act. We need amusement. Atlanta has 200 churches. There are too many. We are emerging from the antiquated religion that forbid pleasure and amusement. If we are to have a sustaining religion, we must allow amusement and pleasure."

Talks of Ad Men.

Prefacing his address, Dr. Atkinson declared that he had come before the Ad Men as a brother ad man, not simply as a parson, but as "a man among you who is as interested in the welfare of Atlanta as any other public-spirited individual." His theme was "Ad Men, Great and Small."

He pronounced the Jews as the greatest ad men of Christianity, and proclaimed his belief that this race had invented the art. He recalled Theodore Roosevelt as one of the nation's greatest advertisers; William Jennings Bryan, President Wilson and Billy Sunday as other renowned advertisers.

His references were replete with humor. He accused Bryan of remoulding the old motto: "Wine is a mocker," by permitting "Grapejuice to make us a mockery of all nations." He deplored the incites of Billy Sunday, however, in a great many respects, but pronounced him one of the most wonderful men of modern times.

You know what Cottolene is made of

There is no secret about Cottolene.

The world has known Cottolene for over twenty-five years.

It was in the van of the great movement for the improvement of food products.

It is an exact combination of pure, ultra-refined cottonseed oil (a grade so high it is not listed in the market) with beef-stearine from clean, fresh, leaf beef suet.

That is what produces the splendid qualities for shortening, frying and cake-making in

Cottolene

There is an appetizing appeal in the thought that your foods are cooked with Cottolene—made of an oil that is far superior to most salad oils and as fine as the best, combined with the choicest part of rich, leaf beef suet.

Nothing has ever been found to equal this combination. For more than a quarter of a century Cottolene has been alone—and has held an unchallenged leadership.

Order a pail of Cottolene from your grocer today and use it in shortening, frying, or cake-making. Added to its splendid results is its economy—you use one-third less than of any ordinary cooking fat. Arrange with your grocer for a regular supply.

MINE OWNERS LOST $1,250,000 BY STRIKE

New York, February 25.—The recent strike at the mines of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company cost the company approximately $1,250,000, President Jesse F. Welborn declared in a statement issued today in connection with the monthly directors' meeting held here. The statement told of a showing for providing club houses at a number of the Colorado camps, and also detailed the condition of the company's business and its prospects.

A report was submitted by President Welborn showing earnings for January and for the first seven months of the company's fiscal year. Gross earnings for the seven months showed marked decreases from the preceding two years.

"Although our mine employees were, generally speaking, satisfied with their working conditions when the strike was called," said President Welborn in his statement, "and had been for many years prior thereto, I know I am safe in saying that they are better satisfied and have a more friendly feeling towards the company today than they ever had before.

"We have furnished employment to the maximum number of men at all of our operating mines, to take care of as many as possible of the desirable workmen who participated in the strike. A larger percentage than usual of the workmen have families, as in re-employing the strikers we have given preference to the married men."

BIG RALLY AT NEWNAN

Big Crowd of Farmers Hear Farm Experts.

Newnan, Ga., February 25.—(Special.) A large crowd, composed of representative people from this and other counties of the district, gathered here today to attend the fourth district agricultural rally, held under the auspices of the state department of agriculture and the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs.

Addresses of welcome were delivered by Hon. R. D. Cole, president of the county chamber of commerce, and Mrs. Mike Powell, district president of the Federation of Woman's clubs. Mr. Cole also presided and introduced the speakers.

At the morning session interesting addresses were made by Hon. J. D. Price, commissioner of agriculture; Prof. Peter Bahnsen, state veterinarian, and Prof. Phil Campbell, of the state college of agriculture. At the afternoon session the speakers were Mrs. Nellie Peters Black and Mrs. Lyman J. Amsden, of Atlanta. Prof. Ira Williams, of the state department of entomology; Prof. J. A. Nelson, president of the fourth district A. & M. school; and Dr. C. C. Buchanan, health officer of the state board of health.

The exercises throughout were most interesting and instructive as well.

MRS. JOHN F. TOOLE DIES AT SON'S HOME

Mrs. John F. Toole, of Macon, Ga., died yesterday afternoon at 3:20 o'clock at the home of her son on Columbia avenue, in Atlanta. Only last November Mr. Toole, her husband, died at his home in Macon, at which time his wife was quite sick. She was brought to a sanitarium in Atlanta where she remained for several weeks, later being removed to the residence of her son here.

Mrs. Toole was a splendid Christian woman and will be greatly missed by her large number of friends in Macon. She was 67 years old. She is survived by three sons and one daughter, Dr. Charles L. Toole, a dentist of Macon; W. H. Toole, president of the First National bank of Winder, and also director in the Federal Reserve bank of Atlanta; J. E. Toole, president of the Southern Trust company, Atlanta, and Mrs. Clarence Breedlove, of Little Rock, Ark. The funeral will be held in Macon.

MONTICELLO PURCHASE FAVORED BY WILSON

Washington, February 25.—President Wilson sent a letter today to Senator Kern and Representative Underwood favoring passage of the pending resolution for purchase of Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson. It follows:

"I am told that there is a resolution now pending before both houses of congress for the purchase of Monticello, the home of Mr. Jefferson, and that back of it lies a very strong sentiment in both houses. Certainly my own interest in it is very deep and very sincere.

"I most earnestly hope that there will be some interval in the business of congress which can be used for the passage of this most interesting piece of legislation, which, I think, will meet the approval of the whole nation."

SEATS FOR "HYPOCRITES" WILL GO ON SALE TODAY

The Lyric box office will open this morning for the accommodation of those who desire to secure seats in advance for the engagement of "Hypocrites" at the theater daily matinee and night next week. This masterful picture is still a sensation in New York, crowding the Longacre to its full capacity at every performance—$1 a seat. The picture will be exhibited at the Lyric for 25 cents for the best seat matinee or night. Reservations can be made by phone or messenger. A great many orders have been listed by mail and there is every indication that "Hypocrites" will be the same sensation here it has been so long in New York.

NAME POLLING PLACES FOR QUEEN OF BAZAR

Interest in the selection of a "queen of Atlanta," to be crowned on "Grand Mardi Gras Day," March 6, the last day of the big Atlanta charity bazar, will be increased today through the fact that the various polling places and ballot boxes have been designated and set out. Places where votes may be bought for one cent and deposited to the credit of candidates, are at Brown & Allen's drug store on Whitehall street; E. H. Cone, Whitehall street; Jacobs' pharmacies at Forsyth and Marietta, and Nos. 6 and 8 Marietta, and all of the five United Cigar Stores in the metropolitan districts.

BIG COTTON SHIPMENTS FROM NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., February 25.—Foreign shipments of cotton from New Orleans today amounted to 37,468 bales, said to be the heaviest movement from this port for any one day this season. Five vessels cleared with full cargoes, two for Genoa and one each for Liverpool, Rotterdam and Gothenburg.

URGE FREE BATHING AT LAKEWOOD PARK

Suggest That Park Department Should Be Placed in Direct Control.

The committee on parks and playgrounds of the chamber of commerce, of which Albert S. Adams is chairman, met yesterday at 12:30 o'clock and made the following recommendation to the board of directors concerning Lakewood park:

"1. That Lakewood Park, exclusive of that portion which would be used directly by the Southeastern Fair association, be made a part of the city park system and placed in direct control of the park department.

"2. That the park should not be rented, but given proper police protection and be controlled and supervised just as Grant Park and Piedmont Park are now.

"3. That arrangements be made through the park department for free bathing facilities at Lakewood this summer just as has so successfully been carried on at Piedmont Park, thus giving the large population on the south side equal bathing facilities in the summer.

"4. That in the development of Lakewood Park for the fair, appropriation be made for public golf links, adequate tennis courts, baseball diamonds and playgrounds for the children. Also that a complete and comprehensive plan of landscape development be provided and adopted so that from year to year, as this work develops, it should be a part always of the larger plan to the end that ultimately the city will have one of the finest all-the-year-round recreational parks at Lakewood that could be found anywhere in the country and would be a source of pride to the city of Atlanta."

ALIENS ARE BARRED ON THE PUBLIC WORKS

Albany, N. Y., February 25.—The state court of appeals today upheld the constitutionality of the state law prohibiting the employment of aliens on public works and providing for the forfeiture of contracts on which alien labor is employed. The decision was given in a taxpayer's suit instituted to test application of the law to the employment of aliens in building subways under construction in New York city.

The opinion asserted that the legislature had declared that the monies of the state should go to the people of the state.

"Equal protection of the law is due to aliens as to citizens," it continued, "but equal protection does not mean that those who have no interest in the common property of the state must share in that property on the same terms as those who have an interest."

Constipation a Penalty of Age

Nothing is so essential to health in advancing age as keeping the bowels open. It makes one feel younger and fresher and forestalls colds, piles, fevers and other dependent ills.

Cathartics and purgatives are violent and drastic in action and should be avoided. A mild, effective laxative-tonic, recommended by physicians and thousands who have used it, is the combination of simple herbs with pepsin sold by druggists everywhere under name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The price is fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 224 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

LOOK Then Leap

This company's profits are concerned with the proposed inauguration here of "jitney" buses. We state that frankly.

But set it aside.

How are YOU concerned? That's the question.

If you live in Atlanta or its suburbs, you are concerned very much—be you man, woman or child.

We want to impress that on you and then invite you to join us in a very respectful and open suggestion to the authorities that they prescribe now, in advance, regulations to control the innovation.

First, you are interested in the matter of pavements. Our own cars run on rails and wear out no pavement; yet we pay a generous proportion of all paving costs on streets where our tracks are laid. Automobile buses will impose very heavy wear on pavements. Those pavements are yours. You pay a share of their cost. You renew them. Shall the "jitney" bus contribute nothing for their maintenance?

Second, you are interested in the matter of street traffic. Eight buses of ordinary size would be required to carry as many passengers as one street car accommodates. Multiply the automobiles downtown; pour 'em into the main thoroughfares that already are overcrowded; dump 'em in on the rush-hour throngs; then you have the possible new conditions. Should that congestion be regulated in advance?

Third, you are interested in public safety. Street car motormen and conductors are trained carefully before they're allowed to run cars. Accidents have increased everywhere the "jitney" bus idea has been spread. They increased 60 per cent in Los Angeles. It has been necessary to enforce safety measures in all cities. Should not you also have protection against careless chauffeurs?

Fourth, you are interested in responsibility for damages. If we're sued and the jury blames us, we can meet the verdict, for the nature of our business requires heavy investment in property. Is one automobile in more or less good repair sufficient to answer for the results of a "jitney" bus accident?

Fifth, you're interested in a potential menace to morality. Inevitable consequences have aroused mothers' associations, women's clubs, to urgent demands for protection of women and children. Newspapers have told of these things—of insult and mistreatment incited by the intimacy and informality of the "jitney" bus ride, and the irresponsibility of the "jitney" bus driver.

Sixth, you're interested in actual money losses to the public revenue. For instance, the city gets a part of every nickel we collect—a tax on gross revenue, additional to other taxes. If the nickels are paid to someone else who gives no share to the city, the public treasury loses. Shall the principle of taxation be applied impartially?

Seventh, you're concerned with the possible impairment of our existing street car service. If we lose money, naturally we can't afford to make extensions. They've been stopped altogether in several cities. If still we lose, it's logical that we must curtail expenses elsewhere, perhaps by abandoning unprofitable lines—and that means the "long-haul" lines into outlying sections. If revenue still doesn't pay expenses, extraordinary measures are necessary, such as higher fares to outlying sections. The deficit on "long-haul" lines is paid now (and only partially paid, in some instances) by the profit of the "short-haul" lines. That profit is the cream of the street transportation business. And without it there couldn't be any skimmed milk. Shall that cream be taken away and its benefits denied you?

There you have seven sensible reasons why Atlanta should proceed in this matter with full thought of future consequences. The community should look, first.

"Jitney" buses were novelties. Now the novelty is wearing off. Regulations to control the buses are being shaped in many cities—but with more difficulty than if those regulations had been prepared in advance.

Shall Atlanta look before she leaps?

WOMEN AND THE SCHOOLS.

Developments of yesterday placed the power of 8,000 organized women back of the solution of the desperate educational problems of Atlanta.

That is the substance of the story told in our local columns of the action of the executive board of the City Federation of Women's Clubs in not only indorsing the program and resolutions of the School Improvement association, but in inviting the members of that association to affiliate as active members with the federation.

There is not a note of politics, meddling or interference in the movement now launched. It is simply the thrusting of 8,000 woman-power to the task of insuring a square deal for the children of Atlanta. There will ensue a campaign of education and the rest will be up to council, the board of education and the women of Atlanta co-operating to bring the facts before the city authorities.

A meeting of the mothers and patrons generally of the schools of Atlanta was called a few weeks ago at Carnegie library to discuss the impasse toward which the schools were drifting. So overwhelming was the response to the call that the meeting had to be transferred to the auditorium of the Congregational church. At that meeting the School Improvement association was formed. Resolutions were adopted reciting the deplorably crowded conditions in the public schools, emphasizing the congestion that already threatened the efficiency of the high schools, and that forced discrimination in hours of instruction in the grammar schools in the form of double sessions. The resolutions call for a standard teaching day. As it is now, there are many grades in the white schools alone whose scholars receive only four hours of instruction as against the standard five and one-half hours prevailing in the other grades.

The action of the federation's executive board now places the power of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, 8,000 strong in membership, back of an indorsement of the resolutions passed by several hundred women at the first meeting of the School Improvement association, and in making that body a part of the federated organizations these 8,000 organized women pledge their influence to secure an end of the conditions that menace the efficiency of the schools today, and that even more definitely menaces their future.

These more than 8,000 Atlanta women are asking nothing unreasonable. They are asking simply that the school system be placed upon a basis of uniformity. That there shall be a seat for every child that has the right to apply. That there shall be a square deal for every child, which is impossible while hundreds of them are receiving only four hours of instruction against the standard five and one-half hours, and even then that four hours or part of it given in the afternoon when the child is fagged and unreceptive.

The organized women of Atlanta have never yet failed to attain any important end they sought. Their participation in the campaign that led to the success of the $3,000,000 bond issues, and innumerable other civic and public movements, is historic.

And they are not going to fail where uniformity in the public school system, the efficiency of the school system itself, the sacredness of the democratic principle of equality of opportunity in the school system are involved.

WORSE THAN REPUDIATION.

With the partisan politics and the chronic municipal parsimony and short-sightedness which now aim at the abolition of the city's normal training school for teachers, The Constitution does not undertake to deal.

But there are two bedrock principles involved in the issue that should and do interest every citizen of Atlanta.

Is the city going to hold itself up to the derision of the country by breaking its moral obligation with the teachers it employed at the school for the full term of ten months?

And are the people of Atlanta willing that a plant for the production of suitable teachers for the Atlantans of tomorrow shall be dismantled for lack of a pitiful little $4,500?

Those are the only two factors that really count. As against them technicalities and petty personal politics are dwarfed.

If the employer in private life hired a man to work for him in September on through into June and then, in February, blithely discharged that employee, the act would be outright breach of contract.

That is the position Atlanta is about to assume toward the teachers in the city normal, who went to work in September with the understanding that their employment continued through the school year.

It is all the worse, in that the contract is not a written but a moral one.

We have had many kinds of publicity that were good for this city. But the kind that advertises it as breaking faith with its employees is hardly to be desired.

That is only one side of the proposition. The abolition of the normal school would be a crime against the Atlantan of tomorrow. Teachers require training, as well as lawyers, doctors and members of other professions. To turn loose upon the children of the city young teachers rawly recruited from the high school is to deny the child a square deal and the teacher a square deal. Instead of abolishing or crippling the normal, its work should be gradually extended to bring under its beneficent influence every teacher in the city.

For the lack, or alleged lack, of $4,500 is rich Atlanta going to practice repudiation of the stingiest sort and place its children at a disadvantage with the children of other cities?

FOR GEORGIA PRODUCTS.

In arranging a plan whereby it will undertake to market the apples, cantaloupes, melons and other fruits and vegetables of Georgia, in addition to peaches, the Georgia Fruit Exchange has made a substantial contribution toward the solution of the state's agricultural problem this year. Already work is on foot to perfect selling contracts for these products at the 180 cities in which the exchange last year marketed peaches. If it encounters the same success in marketing Georgia's surplus of other produce, as indicated, it will add materially to the revenues of the farmers of the state.

In co-operation with the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, the exchange will do its utmost throughout Georgia to encourage the production of such crops as it can handle; to form suitable territory and instruct the farmers of that territory how to properly grade, pack and assemble such products in carload lots.

It is essential with vegetables, cantaloupes, and products other than peaches, that they be assembled in carload lots and suitably graded, as peaches now are under the plan of the exchange. Where assembling centers are lacking, it is urged that growers form co-operative agencies and get in touch either with the Chamber of Commerce or the Fruit Exchange.

It is estimated that every year hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of perishable products go to waste on Georgia farms simply for lack of machinery to market them. The same condition, or one parallel, existed some years ago with reference to peaches in Georgia. At the end of a bumper year with small returns or actual losses, many growers were so discouraged as to contemplate going out of business. It was then upon the initiative of The Constitution that the Georgia Fruit Exchange was formed, and since then the peach industry in Georgia has been upon a sound commercial basis.

There is no reason why the exchange cannot do for the other perishable products of the state what it has done for peaches. It must be emphasized, however, that in order to obtain the best results there must be free co-operation between the farmer, the exchange and the State Chamber of Commerce.

There appears to be no substitute for the submarine.

If the German submarines are to be called "sea-wasps," it is the business of the allies to extract the sting.

If some reporter could invade Spook-land, an interview with Napoleon right now would make corking reading.

One advantage of the ending of the war would be the passing of the necessity of pronouncing those Russian names.

Politics in Atlanta of the board variety is just one scrap after another.

The eugenists have never yet improved on Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes' formula for living to a ripe old age, and that was: "Choose your parents carefully."

JEALOUSY

By Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D.

REV. J. WILBUR CHAPMAN, D.D.

"Jealousy is cruel as the grave."—S. of Solomon, 8:6.

It works with blighting power in the life of the offender. It inexpressibly grieves the one against whom the offense is committed.

It has left its mark upon the pages of the Bible, and, like the trail of the serpent, we trace its goings on the pages of holy writ. In the book of books we read of brother arrayed against brother, children against parents, households divided, and lives wrecked. It fairly eats away the heart of the one who is guilty and is the sharpest cause of suffering for the one against whom it is committed. It is one of the most harmful failings in the world.

Jealousy is caused by a depreciation of one's self and by lack of fair treatment of those of whom we are jealous. Sometimes it is apparent because we are tired, often when we are sick, but as a rule when we ourselves are not right.

We are jealous when we ourselves know that we have fallen below the standard of right living. Jealousy comes when we brood over wrongs which, as a rule, are imaginary and not real.

THE CURE:

Make the most of your own life. Fight your failings, multiply your virtues. Make the world ashamed because it can say no evil thing against you.

Treat the one of whom you are jealous: Think kind things of him, render him some special service, say more good things about him. There is no one so far fallen but there is in him some virtue of which he may speak.

Here is a good prescription—fill it, take it, keep on taking it until you are set free: "Get right with God."

RIPPLING RHYMES

By WALT MASON.

TWO VIEWS.

It rained all day, and Sarah Jane surveyed the dismal scene; her face against the window pane, she gazed, and cried, "How mean! Here I'm condemned to stay inside, and mope and break my heart, when I would like to take a ride in Willie's chug-chug cart! Oh, rain, you spoil this life of mine, you make me wail and sob! The sun should have to pay a fine for loafing on its job!" Said Gladys Mae Rebecca, "Hoots! This weather can't be beat! It's just the stuff for men and brutes, and also for the wheat. What more could anyone desire than such a day as this, when one can sit before the fire, and read, in perfect bliss? The music of the blessed rain, as on the roof it falls, should soothe away our every pain, and heal our harness galls. I like the sunshine when it gleams on hill and bosky dell, but when the rain gets wet and streams, I like that just as well." Then Gladys Mae Rebecca took the Uplift Magazoon, and in the cosy inglenook enjoyed the afternoon; while Sarah Jane, with gloomy mind, looked forth at gusty showers, and, in a manner most refined, she cussed the dragging hours.

BARBED WIRE.

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

Barbed wire was invented in Illinois many years ago, by a man whose descendants now belong to the first families, and can buy new automobiles whenever they feel like it.

It takes a humble little thing to alter geography and society, and turn governments over and over. Mosquito netting dug the Panama canal; the cotton gin made clothing cheap and plentiful for the whole world, and the barbed wire fence turned the embarrassingly great west into a feed lot for the cattle of America.

When the white man had cleared the Indians and buffalo off the prairies, and had run a railroad across them, he scratched his head in perplexity. They were too big to be useful. It would have taken all the carpenters in America to fence them in. For many years cattle men operated ranches as large as Belgium or thereabouts, with shotguns for boundaries, but the method was wasteful. It reduced the already scanty population, and it didn't keep the cattle from straying into other ranches, and producing complications which were usually settled by the coroner. Then Colonel Elwood came forward with his barbed wire fence, a neat and unostentatious contrivance, which, when rubbed against by a restless steer, ran a wire spine into his hide, and caused him to back off in great agitation.

After the barbed wire fence came, the rest was easy. Several million miles of fence went up over the prairies, and the corn raiser began to go west, where he could raise four times as much corn per drop of perspiration, and at the same time could keep it out of his neighbor's cattle. Nebraska and Kansas became corn and wheat fields, and the United States grew greater with much enthusiasm.

Barbed wire is now passing gradually out of use on the farm, because it is regarded as too cruel. Nothing disarranges a fine milch cow so distressingly as a reckless scrap with a barbed wire fence. However, this does not in the least disqualify it for military purposes, and shiploads of barbed wire are going to Europe every week, to be used in making the lot of the common soldier more undesirable. After a fair-haired, pink-cheeked boy has fought and crawled through half a mile of barbed wire entanglements with machine guns in front of him, disgrace in the rear, and sharp steel stickers all over him, he is likely to think hardly of Providence, because it did not make him a kind-faced muley cow, behind a woven wire fence, far from war's harms.

Rat Slays Rattlesnake.

(Clifton (Ark.) dispatch to The New York World.)

Herman Aars, a farmer living near here, recently caught eleven large rattlesnakes alive, which he had held in captivity. At the same time he trapped a large rat, which he matched in battle against one of the snakes in an inclosed box. A battle raged for some minutes, at the conclusion of which the rat came out best, putting his antagonist to death.

The Holland Letter

Frank A. Vanderlip compacted into a few words information which had come to him while sojourning upon the Pacific coast and returning thence to this city by saying that he was persuaded that the people do not now maintain the same attitude toward business which they did hold for several years, and that what they now look for is not new legislation, but the repeal of some of the laws which have in recent years been enacted. The same, though, is contained in a few remarks made by Judge E. H. Gary, who ventured to say that what is now desirable is the repeal of certain legislation which has been found detrimental to business.

Something of this kind was undoubtedly in President Wilson's mind when he spoke to the convention of the chamber of commerce of the United States at its recent meeting in Washington. No part of his address has been so earnestly discussed as that portion in which he intimated that if he can be shown that combinations perfected solely for the purpose of maintaining and increasing our foreign trade are not in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, then he would be glad to take such action as seemed to him appropriate. At first, the impression prevailed with some of the members at the convention that the president meant that when the supreme court passes upon this issue he will have received the information that he is anxious to get. But, as the president's utterance was more carefully considered and discussed, it became at last the prevailing opinion that his meaning was as follows: The business men of the United States are of the opinion that combinations are essential if we are to maintain and increase our foreign trade. There is, however, a difference of opinion respecting the relation of the Sherman anti-trust law to combinations of that kind. Some are persuaded that the Sherman law does not prohibit such combinations. Able lawyers confess that they are unable to give any opinion respecting the attitude of the supreme court when this issue is brought to the attention of the court, if it ever is. In any event, not less than two years probably must pass between the beginning of proceedings in the supreme court to determine this question and the delivering of the court's opinion.

What President Wilson is now believed to have had in mind is that he would gladly hear expositions from responsible business men of the United States of the reasons why they are persuaded that combinations formed solely for the purpose of maintaining and increasing foreign trade are expedient and beneficial. He will listen patiently to whatever reliable business men may have to say upon this point. Having in that way become informed and having added to the information in such other ways as seem to him opportune, the president will be able to make up his mind. If he finds that the business view of such combinations is of merit he may be persuaded to recommend to congress that there be such amendment of the Sherman law as will permit these combinations to be made. In that way the issue would no longer exist if congress approved the recommendation so that there would need to be no appeal to the supreme court.

President and His Listeners.

Some of those who took part in the meeting at Washington of the United States Chamber of Commerce are speaking now of the general impression made upon the members of the organization by the president's address. It seemed to many of them that the president is gradually abandoning the political transcendentalism which was so conspicuous a mental condition of his in the first year of his presidency. So, also, it is said that if President Wilson is able to bring his ideas which are a form of transcendentalism into full sympathy with facts, accurate knowledge, profound understanding of the principles and methods which have characterized American business life so far as that has been influential in bringing prosperity to the United States, then he will be revealed as one of the master minds of public life in the United States. One comment made by a lawyer of ability was this: "If President Wilson can now bridge the chasm between idealism and practical, thorough as well as profound information, he will make for himself enduring fame and gain for the people great successes."

This is an impression which some of those, and possibly all, who heard his address received not only from his spoken words, but from a certain mystic attitude for which there is no language which serves more greatly to persuade than does unanswerable argument.

Real Congestion Now Prevails.

Not only in the movement of wheat from the harvest fields to the markets and from the export cities is there now real congestion, but that condition is characteristic of many of the American manufactories which have received large orders from the belligerent and neutral nations. It is commonly said in the financial district that the corporation of which Charles M. Schwab is president would now be congested by reason of the overflowing business it has undertaken if it had not limited its acceptance of orders to the capacity of its plants. There were in several of the offices of the large corporations in this city now actively occupied with filling foreign orders strong evidence of the danger of congestion. For instance, one of the large industries received by cable a proposition for commodities with the proviso that they were to be delivered at a certain fixed time. Had the order been taken, the plants of this company would have been congested. On the following day a similar order came from across the sea and it was also necessary to decline it. The aggregate of these two orders represented $150,000 and payment for the commodities would have been made on the date of the delivery of them to the steamship. But this industry is now operating to the capacity of its plants, and if this capacity were doubled, the plants would not be too large.

From various places in New England come reports that the manufacturing plants are now being operated to their full capacity and there is no lack of employment in these towns for any who are competent to work in the plants. If orders recently offered had been accepted, then some of the plants would have broken down by reason of congestion or else it would have been necessary to cancel contracts.

In this second week of February there are evidences that great as are the demands which have been made upon the United States for food, fiber and manufactured commodities, these are to be increased, the presumption being that the increase will continue for the rest of this calendar year at least. We may be compelled to hold up a halting hand, saying to would-be customers in foreign nations, "We have reached our capacity for production and unless you are willing to wait until orders can conveniently be filled, you will be compelled to look elsewhere for the commodities which you seek." Germs Hide for Fifty Years.

(York (Pa.) dispatch to The Philadelphia Record.)

A fatality which has strangely repeated itself after the passage of a half century in Raymond Miller's Fawn Grove house was today attributed by health authorities and attending physicians to diphtheria germs which had lurked in the walls during the long interval.

Fifty years ago diphtheria broke out in a family which previously owned the property and had caused several deaths. Shortly before the present outbreak Miller decided to have the walls of the house papered, and a heavy coating of whitewash was scraped away and this refuse thrown into a heap outside. Warm, damp weather followed and supposedly revived germs from the previous epidemic, which had been imprisoned under the whitewash.

EIGHT THOUSAND ATLANTA WOMEN JOIN IN MOVEMENT FOR WELFARE OF SCHOOLS

Eight thousand women, representing the organized forces of the women of the city, pledged their support to the welfare of the public schools of Atlanta, when, yesterday, at the semi-annual meeting of the Atlanta City Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin presiding, the City Federation invited to become a member of its body the Atlanta School Improvement association, and indorsed unanimously resolutions sent by the School Improvement association as follows:

"Whereas, the efficiency of the public school system of Atlanta is seriously threatened by the failure of the city to provide adequate accommodations for the children applying for admission; and

"Whereas, the lack of accommodations has denied hundreds of children the standard five and one-half hours' opportunity supposed to be accorded to all the children of the city; and

"Whereas, the children thus forced to attend the double sessions are given only four hours and, what is worse, are required to attend to their school duties either very early in the morning or very late in the afternoon; and

"Whereas, these irregular and uncertain hours are detrimental not only to their mental development, but to their physical well being; and

"Whereas, conditions not only in the Boys' and the Girls' high school buildings, but also in the grammar schools of this city threaten a congestion that will paralyze the entire system, if not soon remedied; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we, representing the School Improvement association and the motherhood of the city generally, demand that something be done to protect our public schools and to restore them at least to the former basis of adequate accommodations without which no sound development is possible.

"For the purpose of effecting such organization as may be necessary to further this movement, the chairman of this meeting is hereby authorized to appoint an executive committee of twenty-five women, representing the various wards of the city, to which committee is referred for such time and place as in its judgment it may think best a call for a further meeting, or the taking of such further steps as it may deem wisest to accomplish the end set forth in these resolutions."

Approval of Resolutions.

Mrs. James G. Gilbert spoke earnestly in behalf of these resolutions sent by the Atlanta School Improvement association looking to the welfare of the public schools of Atlanta, the Federation expressing its indorsement of the resolutions as follows:

"The executive board extends the co-operation of the City Federation to the School Improvement association, recently organized, in all that it undertakes for the betterment of the public schools of our city, and we hope its efforts will have the approval and co-operation of the board of education; and most cordially invite the association to become a member of the City Federation."

Previous to acting upon the resolutions of the School Improvement association the City Federation passed a resolution relative to conditions in the public schools as follows:

City Federation Resolutions.

"Whereas, the Atlanta City Federation stands for all that is humanitarian and non-political; and,

"Whereas the fact that a child is the most sacred and important trust of both father and mother; and

"Whereas, the fact that home influence and education are the two factors that make for good or for bad citizenship;

"Resolved, That we, the women of the Atlanta City Federation of Women's clubs, approximately 8,000 in number, recognizing that many of our public school buildings are inadequate and insanitary, and the equipment insufficient, offer our co-operation and pledge our untiring efforts to the board of education in every effort they may make for the betterment of our public schools in Atlanta, and do most earnestly request that they make such repairs and changes in the buildings as to insure the health and safety of our children."

The following supplementary resolutions bearing upon public educational matters and introduced by Mrs. Nellie Peters Black were unanimously passed:

Other Resolutions.

"Whereas, we are all deeply sensible of the need of more room for the children of school age in Atlanta, especially of the first three grades; be it

"Resolved, That the City Federation of Women's clubs respectfully suggest to the members of the school board the expediency and practical utility of connecting a four-room bungalow building to relieve the situation of the lower grades wherever it is most needed. We feel that under the present financial condition this will be a happy solution of the trouble.

"Whereas, a special resolution was received from Mr. Price, the commissioner of agriculture; Dr. Soule, of the State Agricultural college, and other distinguished gentlemen, asking for the co-operation of the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs, and presented at the meeting of the executive board in January; and

"Whereas, this resolution was acted upon most favorably and, in fact, received with great enthusiasm; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the City Federation of Women's clubs do hereby pledge themselves to interest as many persons as possible in the subject of farming, gardening, planting trees, flowers and shrubs to make a beautiful and productive Georgia.

"Resolved, That we will endeavor to have a good delegation present at the agricultural rally for this district to be held at the courthouse in Decatur on March 3, at 10 a. m. Be it further

"Resolved, That the civic committees of our clubs be requested to ask permission of the owners of vacant lots to allow them to be planted, free of charge, as gardens by those who may be willing to cultivate them for their benefit."

Program of Meeting.

Dr. Bricker, of the Christian church, opened the meeting with prayer, and the president announced as the introductory feature a memorial tribute to the late Mrs. Sallie Chase Pattillo, founder of the City Federation. This consisted of loving resolutions written by Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, and passed by the body, and a letter containing a beautiful tribute to Mrs. Pattillo from Mrs. Frances Fort Brown, first president of the City Federation, and the neighbor and friend of Mrs. Patillo.

Mrs. Lumpkin then briefly reviewed the general work of the City Federation, stressing the fact that the federation is a clearing house for the eighty-odd organizations belonging to it, and that the success of the City Federation depends upon the activity of the individual clubs comprising the federated body.

She mentioned as one of the general works of the federation that which had been done during the winter in the interest of the playgrounds for Atlanta children, white and colored, and urged all organizations to work for eighteen playgrounds for white children and five for the negroes.

She mentioned the necessity for the further work of the women for the patronage of home products, indorsing the movement of the national women's organization looking to patronage of home-made wares and products. She commended the activity of the Atlanta Woman's club, and asked Mrs. A. P. Coles to explain briefly the work of the industrial committee of the club, of which Mrs. Frank Neely is chairman. Mrs. Neely is also chairman of the federation industrial committee. Mrs. Coles explained that among the practical things accomplished by the committee was the publication of a circular or bulletin, which was to be distributed among the women of industrial centers in the city, telling them where to go for information and assistance along many lines, especially that pertaining to health. With the clinics there are in Atlanta there is no reason why any dependent person who is ill should go unaided, explains the bulletin, and directions are given as to where the aid can be had.

The Unemployed Women.

Mrs. Lumpkin also indorsed the work of the committee from the Atlanta Woman's club looking to the help of unemployed women, the federation subsequently passing a set of resolutions sent by the Atlanta Woman's club committee, putting itself on record as working for the establishment of a municipal employment bureau for Atlanta, these resolutions signed by Mrs. William Percy, chairman.

Another movement heartily indorsed was expressed in resolutions commending the educational committee of the Atlanta Woman's club, Mrs. Spencer Atkinson, chairman, urging upon the board of education to incorporate in the curriculum of the grammar schools domestic science for girls, and manual training for boys. Mrs. Atkinson, speaking to the resolution, described the appointment of the club committee by Mrs. McGovern, the visit of the committee to the board of education and council, and their continued efforts in that direction. She explained the plea of the committee, which was that the branches of training asked for were directly in line with the girls' and boys' equipment for life.

Following the business meeting of the organization an address of stirring interest on the subject of the "Women in the War Zone" was delivered by Mrs. Ralph C. Norton.

On the platform with Mrs. Lumpkin at the meeting were the officers of the federation, including Mrs. Oscar Parmalee and Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith; also Mrs. E. L. Connally and Mrs. Woods White, former presidents; Miss Rosa Woodberry, representing the State Federation, and Mrs. William Lawson Peel, an honor guest.

Welcomed as the "baby organization" of the City Federation was the Atlanta School Improvement association, of which Mrs. R. L. Walker is acting president. The specific purpose of the organization is the welfare of the public school system of Atlanta, and its principle is co-operative. It represents the parent and home interest in the school system.

Its organization will begin through the work of a central committee, which Mrs. Walker will appoint, this committee to include membership in the various wards of the city.

A MODERN REGULUS.

(Fom The Baltimore Sun.)

There are some bright rays to illuminate the darkness, despair and desolation of the war. It is related in the dispatches that a Frenchman in prison in Germany, learning that his mother was dying, wrote to the emperor begging leave to go to her bedside and pledging his honor that he would return to Germany by the first of March. The kaiser at once gave orders for the release of the prisoner on the terms he poposed. The Frenchman departed and was with his mother when she died, and then he kept faith and went back to his prison. It is pleasant to see that the kaiser in the midst of the vast responsibility and toil with which he is charged takes time and thought for such acts of mercy and human kindness as this. President Lincoln did many such things in the civil war, bringing upon himself from time to time the censure of those who wanted war to be the worst kind of hell for the south.

SUPPORT KIPLING'S CONTENTION.

(From The Boston Globe.)

Prominent Englishmen are still discussing seriously Rudyard Kipling's declaration that "for all our long faces, we are the only genuine humorous race on earth." Meanwhile, the soldiers at the front are doing something to support Mr. Kipling's contention. One British officer, finding the enemy missing at a point where he was to lead an attack, exclaimed: "I hope nothing's happened to the blighters!" and a raw yeoman sentry, when asked by his officer what he would do if he saw five battleships "steaming across the field," answered promptly: "Sign the pledge, sir."

THE WOLVES OF WAR.

(From The Chicago News.)

Already the war has brought back the superstitions of the middle ages, werewolves and ghouls being reported from various parts of Europe. Doubtless, dragons will appear ere long, if the war continues. The visible world being but materialized thought forms, when the thought forms are horrible the manifestations will assume a consistent shape. And as war is a more terrible form of delirium than mania a potu, or the delirium of drunkards, of course, the menagerie of horrors will be proportionately more horrifying.

DELICIOUSLY SIMPLE.

(From The Boston Transcript.)

"Pa, why does corn pop?"

"Well, you see, the starch polygons are of such a nature as to facilitate expansion and render it explosive in character; there is a fracture of a particle along its two radii, the endosperm swelling very considerably, the peripheral portions cohering with the hull, but the fractured quarters turning back to meet below the embryo—why, my son, where are you going?"

"I'm going to tell little sister."

EPIDEMIC OF FOLLY.

(From The Baltimore American.)

In Kansas a bill has been introduced in the interests of pure complexions, forbidding the use of powder, cosmetic, false hair, etc., by women under forty years of age. In Denver a curfew law for chickens and rabbits has been introduced. In Boston legislators are entertaining bills to tax bachelors, to abolish hay fever and to prohibit doctors and dentists from growing hair on their faces. Evidently the fool legislator is in his glory and has broken out like an epidemic to make the country wonder where all the fools come from.

MAKING THE BOY USEFUL.

(From The Chicago Journal.)

Chinese women may lack some of the privileges accorded to their sex in more modern countries, but they have others peculiarly their own. For instance, when a Chinese lady encounters a mudhole she beckons to any small boy in sight. The boy gets down on his hands and knees in the mud and the lady uses him as a footbridge. She is required to give him a small coin for his service.

"CAPTAIN OF THE TEAM."

(From The Florida Times-Union.)

The Tampa Tribune notes the coming of "Colonel Henry Watterson, America's foremost newspaper man." Here's to him, but although he was a soldier once and is to be honored for having been a soldier, the character he now bears is enough distinction without a military prefix. Let him be Henry Watterson, America's foremost newspaper man, Kentucky's prophet and adviser-in-chief to the south, the Captain of our Team.

A CENSUS OF HUSBANDS.

(From The Baltimore American.)

Of 31,000,000 females over ten years of age in the United States 24,000,000 are engaged in homemaking, according to a government bulletin. Now let us have a census of husbands to learn how many are making good.

FRANK CASE OPENS IN SUPREME COURT

Louis Marshall Presents Side of Defense, and the Argument for the State Will Be Made Today.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 25.—(Special.) Whether Leo M. Frank, the Atlanta factory superintendent, who was convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, was denied a fair trial, such as is guaranteed by the federal constitution, was the question finally presented today in oral argument before the United States supreme court.

Upon the decision of the court depends the fate of Frank—that the verdict of the trial court shall stand, or be set aside as illegal in view of the conditions and circumstances surrounding the trial. It was argued that because of the excitement that prevailed in the streets of Atlanta and in the courtroom, with its psychological effect upon the trial judge and jury, and the absence of Frank and his counsel from the courtroom when the jury returned its verdict invalidated the jury's finding.

Will End the Case.

The immediate question is upon the habeas corpus writ sued out by Frank's counsel to Judge William T. Newman, of the northern district of Georgia. If the court upholds Judge Newman's action, that will end the case and Frank will be resentenced and executed.

The supreme court may send back the case with instructions to Judge Newman to hear testimony as to whether Frank was denied his constitutional rights under the fourteenth amendment.

If Judge Newman finds that he was, a new trial will be ordered. It is expected that the defendant will then plead that he cannot be placed twice in jeopardy for the same offense.

Counsel for the state indicates that another indictment charging a capital crime will then be brought against him.

Louis Marshall, of New York, opened the case today with a brilliant argument. He was questioned from time to time by practically every member of the court except Associate Justice Lamar and Associate Justice McReynolds. He will be followed tomorrow by Warren Grice, attorney general of Georgia, next Hugh M. Dorsey, solicitor general of Fulton county, who convicted Frank, will speak, and Henry C. Peeples, of counsel for Frank, will conclude.

Each side will have two and one-half hours, having been granted an extension of time.

Courtroom Is Crowded.

Every available seat in the tiny courtroom where the supreme court sits was occupied this afternoon during Mr. Marshall's argument. Among the Georgians present were Mrs. Wheeler Mangum, sheriff of Fulton county; Harry Alexander, Representative William Schley Howard and John W. Bennett, of Waycross.

Discussing the absence of Frank from the courtroom, because of the apprehension felt by the court that some untoward incident might follow a verdict favorable to the prisoner, Mr. Marshall said this was decided upon after conferences in open court between the trial judge, the chief of police of Atlanta and the colonel of the Fifth regiment of state militia.

"The court was afraid of an outbreak by the mob," he said.

"The right to be present is a constitutional right," continued Mr. Marshall. "It is part of the right to be heard. It would not have been proper to let Frank flit in and out of the courtroom, make an account of the statement and then return to jail as if he were not a reality but a mere abstraction."

Chief Justice White asked, "Is it your argument that in a jury trial, where the accused is not present, that he has not been heard, and the trial has been illegal and he must go free?"

Mr. Marshall replied that the right to be present was not one which the accused could voluntarily or involuntarily waive. "The right to be heard," said Mr. Marshall, "includes the right to be present at the final stages of the trial as well as the earlier stages."

Justice Pitney reminded Mr. Marshall that in certain cases jury trial has been waived by state legislatures. He asked Mr. Marshall whether the right to be heard was regarded in his argument as a state or a federal right, and Mr. Marshall replied that his contention was that the right was a part of the fundamental law constituting due process of law.

Justice White Questions.

Chief Justice White asked what passage in the federal constitution guaranteed the right. "When you say 'the right to be heard' you take into account both that question and the argument," said Chief Justice White. "What is the right to be heard?"

"The question involved here is what is the right to be heard as applicable to a criminal trial," replied Mr. Marshall. "Unless the right to be present is a part of the right to be heard, the court might at any stage say 'I do not want you to be present any further.' We can proceed with this trial without you.' Certainly a judge cannot categorically say a trial can go on without the presence of the accused, or that he can be present at some stages and not at other stages."

The chief justice questioned Mr. Marshall as to whether Frank was not in reality heard at length, testified in his own behalf and was present in the courtroom throughout the trial, except when the verdict was rendered. The chief justice seemed to take the position that the due process of law guaranteed by the constitution did not involve all the common law practices regarding a trial by jury.

In Louisiana, his native state, he said the Roman civil law prevails and the common law practice does not, and that juries returned majority instead of unanimous verdicts. He asked Mr. Marshall if he thought that practice invalidated all jury verdicts in Louisiana. Mr. Marshall answered that he did not think the common law applied there.

Mob Spirit Alleged.

Taking up his allegation that the mob spirit pervaded the courtroom, Mr. Marshall said that the crowd permitted even to hang over the jury box and whisper in a way to be overheard by the jurors. Both the chief justice and Justice Pitney asked Mr. Marshall if these facts were uncontested and whether they had been laid before the supreme court of Georgia when the trial in the lower court was sustained.

Mr. Marshall replied that some of the facts had been laid before the supreme court of Georgia, but that the rulings of counsel foreclosed a full discussion of those aspects of the case.

Justice Hughes asked if these statements of facts had been denied and Justice Pitney said that the record seems to show that the supreme court of Georgia had decided the questions before it simply on technical grounds. Mr. Marshall said that Frank's counsel had misapprehended the proper procedure in the earlier appeals, so that there was no way by which the official could record the facts as to mob violence.

CONKLIN MAY HEAD "JITNEY" BUS LINE COMPANY IN CITY

A third "jitney" bus line is in contemplation for Atlanta. A. B. Conklin, former vice president of the Atlanta Telephone company, and O. E. MacCarthy, president of the Southern Dorris company, are seriously considering the establishment of such a corporation, which, if is said, will have prominent backing.

"I am seriously considering the proposition," said Mr. Conklin, "and leading business men have told me that they would enter into such a project if I would take the initiative in forming such a corporation. The automobile firm of the north has brought forward an excellent offer of supplying cars in exchange for stock. However, we are simply looking over the situation at present and have yet made no plans."

Finding No Money in Safe, Burglar Pours Kerosene Into Flour and Sugar

Decatur, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—A burglar with a great big grouch entered the Pickett grocery store on the North Decatur car line in Edgewood last night. It has been the custom of the proprietor of the store to leave the safe unlocked when closing the store each night so that burglars would not wreck it, and the fact that last night's burglar found the safe open and empty seemed to inspire him with a desire for revenge and he proceeded to get busy. He poured a gallon pot with kerosene oil from a tank in the corner of the storeroom and poured its contents into barrels containing sugar and flour and dashed oil over a large number of sacks of flour. He then hammered and chiseled the lock of the safe, although the safe door was ajar, finishing by pouring syrup over the safe and causing damage to goods by the oil amounts to about $200. Nothing was missed from the store, the burglar evidently being on the hunt for money only.

NEW TRIAL IS ASKED FOR CHARLES BECKER

New York, February 25.—A motion for a new trial for Charles Becker, who was convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was filed in the supreme court today. It claims that newly discovered evidence shows that one of the state's material witnesses testified falsely. Attached was the affidavit of James Marshall made in Philadelphia recently, supplementing a part of the testimony at Becker's second trial.

At the conclusion of the hearing, Justice Weeks announced he would hand down a decision some time between now and next Saturday, when the Becker appeal is to be argued in Albany.

"My first impression of this affidavit of Marshall's," Justice Weeks said, "is that it is manifestly an ingenious evasion of direct contradiction of the witness' testimony at the trial, and in my mind does not come within the legal requirements of a motion for a new trial."

SUIT BROUGHT TO TEST ALABAMA LIQUOR LAW

Montgomery, Ala., February 25.—Request for a temporary order directing the Southern Express company to accept a shipment of whisky for Alabama delivery was made by J. E. Whittle, of Pensacola, Fla., in the chancery court here today. Whittle's petition set forth that he recently sold a consignment of whisky to a customer at Ramer, Ala., and that, under the recently enacted anti-liquor shipping law, known as the Denson bill, he is unable to make delivery. The action, it is said, was brought to test the constitutionality of the law.

WILSON'S AID ASKED FOR "FARM DE GINK"

Washington, February 25.—Jeff Davis, founder of the Hotel de Gink for unemployed in New York, asked President Wilson today to set aside some public land in Arizona for a "Farm de Gink," for use of the jobless.

"The unemployed are divided into three classes," Davis told the president, "hoboes, who are willing to work; tramps, who won't work, and bums, who can't work. We are doing our best to care for the hoboes, who are entitled to assistance from the government. Any man is apt to become a hobo some time. Christopher Columbus was a sea hobo before he was the discoverer of America."

ROBBERS TOOK CASH AND BANK PRESIDENT

Havana, Ark., February 25.—Two masked men held up the bank here late today, taking very cent, totaling more than $4,000. The robbers forced the president, Dr. J. A. Mitchell, to leave town with them. Mitchell was found unharmed tonight in the mountains 11 miles from town. A posse is in pursuit of the robbers.

ROLLS SOLD BY CHURCH FATAL TO PURCHASERS

Alma, Neb., February 25.—One person is dead, another is reported dying and thirty are seriously ill as a result of eating rolls sold at a church festival here. It is believed rat poison became mixed with the flour with which the rolls were made.

Report on Judge Dayton.

Washington, February 25.—No action will be recommended to this congress by the house subcommittee hearing charges against Federal Judge Dayton, of West Virginia, Chairman McGillicuddy began preparing a report today, which may serve as the basis of any action the sixty-fourth congress decides to take.

GEORGIA JUDGE MEASURE IN DANGER OF FAILURE

Conferees Unable to Reach Agreement on the Cullop Amendment.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 25.—(Special.)—The bill providing an additional federal judge for the southern district of Georgia was reported back to the two houses this afternoon by a conference committee with a statement that they were unable to reach an agreement on the Cullop amendment.

Unless the senate agrees to let the amendment go through, the bill will fail. It is not believed possible that the house will recede. The Cullop amendment, which requires the president to send to the senate the recommendations on which he bases the nomination of a judge, was adopted by a vote of more than 2 to 1 in the house. Their conferees were also instructed by a special resolution to insist upon it. The senate holds this provision is unconstitutional.

It is believed here that both Representative Charles L. Bartlett and Thomas S. Felder, of Macon, are in a receptive attitude concerning this judgeship. If the bill is passed before March 4, when Mr. Bartlett leaves congress, he would not, under the law, be eligible for the appointment, since the position was created during the term for which he was elected. Judge Wallace W. Lambdin, of Waycross, is still regarded as the most probable appointee.

The conference committee consisted of Senators Culberson of Texas, Smith of Georgia and Clark of Wyoming, and Representatives McGillicuddy of Maine, Thomas of Kentucky and Vollmer of Minnesota. The conferees agreed that no additional judge should be appointed when Judge Emory Speer's office is vacated. It was also agreed that the senior circuit judge of the fifth circuit should divide the work in the district so long as two judges shall serve.

CLEANSES YOUR KIDNEYS

Purifies Your Blood.

For the past 25 years the favorite recipe of old folks for weak kidneys has been Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound. Gives relief in thousands upon thousands of cases of lame back, lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, gall-stones, gravel and all affections of the kidneys, liver, stomach, bladder and allied organs. It acts quickly. It does the work. It cleanses your kidneys and purifies the blood. It makes a new man, a new woman of you. It frequently wards off attacks of the dread and fatal diseases of the kidneys. Stubborn, deep-seated, and completely cures the distressing diseases of the organs of the body, allied with the bladder and kidneys. Bloody or cloudy urine, sediment or "brick dust" indicate an unhealthy condition. Do not delay a minute if your back aches or you are sore across the loins or have difficulty when urinating. Go to your druggist at once and get a bottle of Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound. It is pleasant and easy to take. Dose and directions on each bottle. It will thoroughly cleanse and wash out the bladder and kidneys and throw off the inflammation which is the cause of your trouble.

INDUSTRIES OF FRANCE RECOVERING ACTIVITY

Paris, February 25.—Investigations by the minister of labor show that the activity of French industries and commerce has recovered to a large extent since the first month of the war.

The number of employees is only 20 per cent less than normal. Figures obtained from 71,000 establishments employing more than 1,000,000 persons show that about half of them were closed temporarily by the mobilization order, and that they lost about two-thirds of their workmen at that time.

Many estimates which were running only 50 or three days a week in August now are operating normally. Munitions plants most active are those producing articles needed in carrying on the war. The situation is said to be steadily improving.

Budget Committee Named.

Washington, February 25.—Acting as chairman of the house democratic caucus, Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, today appointed the special committee which is to work out a budget system for submission at the next congress. He named Representative Sherley, of Kentucky, Speaker Clark, Representatives Kitchin of North Carolina, Fitzgerald of New York, Hay of Virginia, Garner of Texas and Stout of Montana.

LEADER OF TRAINMEN REACHES CITY TODAY

Entertainments Are Planned for W. G. Lee and for Dan L. Cease.

W. G. Lee, president of the Grand Lodge of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Dan L. Cease, editor and manager of "Trainman's Journal," will arrive in Atlanta at 6 o'clock this morning from Jacksonville on an official visit.

A committee, composed of three members of each of the three Atlanta lodges of the Brotherhood, will meet the Brotherhood officials at the train, and form an honorary escort to the Piedmont hotel.

At 2 o'clock at the Piedmont hotel, the Atlanta members of the Brotherhood, some 1,500 strong, will assemble to hear addresses by Mr. Lee and Mr. Cease.

This trip through the south is on official business for the Brotherhood, and Mr. Lee will be entertained by Atlanta Trainmen for the first time in two years.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is comprised of 160,000 members in the United States and Canada.

Savings Are Safe In Diamonds

Diamonds pay both direct and indirect dividends.

They are today one of the best investments for the surplus of those who have ample means, or for the savings of those who have not.

Diamonds help to save money. The savings account, which yields small returns at best, is never beyond the sudden impulse of useless spending that comes frequently to all of us. The pride of ownership in a diamond, and the fact that it cannot be spent piecemeal, is a barrier to petty extravagances, and this makes savings more secure.

Buying a diamond on convenient monthly payments helps you acquire the habit of saving and investing your money.

Net prices and full details about our plans are given in our catalogue and diamond booklet. Call or write for them.

It Takes a Pig a Year To Grow Into a Hog

¶ But when you get the hog, you've got something. He's money in your pocket.

¶ Bank accounts, fed regularly, grow big and fat like pigs.

¶ Start it with $1.00 or more, feed it a little every week and at the year's end you'll have—better than the hog—

WOODWARD ASSAILED AT CREMATORY HEARING

Mayor's Alleged Connection With Street Car Company Is Investigated.

Mayor James G. Woodward's promise to make things lively at the crematory hearing when he got on the stand, was carried out at the session on Thursday.

When Attorney George Spence, representing the Destructor company, tried to get the mayor to answer questions which appeared to him to be insinuations that he was in some way connected with the Georgia Railway and Power company, the "fur began to fly."

Mr. Spence began to ask the mayor if he was not employed by the company as renting agent and the answer was snapped back:

"No, and neither you nor any one else can make any such insinuations. I brand them as false."

Mr. Spence next asked if he wasn't employed by the A. B. & A. railroad and wasn't that company under the control of the same men who were at the head of the power company. The reply to this by the mayor was that he had represented the Atlanta Terminal company for thirteen years.

"How much rent do you collect?" asked the lawyer.

"That's none of your business," snapped back the mayor.

All of this evidence was ruled out by Master Frank Callaway.

Mayor Woodward then began to get in some hot shots by stating that when officials of the Destructor company called ex-Alderman James B. Everett out of the council chamber just as a vote on the crematory was about to be taken, a "dirty piece of work was done." He intimated that he could drag in other officials if he wanted to.

The storm seemed to have blown over by the time session adjourned.

JUDGE TELLS WHY HE PLACED A BAN ON BAD LANGUAGE

"That Constitution story about my barring bad language in my court is all right and true," stated Recorder Johnson to a reporter Thursday afternoon. "You see, I want ladies to come down and see how we do business, and how can a lady sit in court and listen to such foul and blasphemous words as some witnesses put in the mouths of defendants. It is really too shocking for a sensitive man. Yes, sir, I have put a ban on it."

Asked why he took such action, the recorder replied:

"I have been thinking for some time about cleaning up things a little and a few days ago a lady came down with an escort to see a police matinee and one of those Darktown negroes began to rattle off a lot of the worst things I ever heard. Well, sir, that lady just put her face down in her hands and her fingers in her ears and ran. What else could she do? Keep on telling the good people that they can come and see us without being shocked."

EXAMINATION FOR AGRICULTURISTS

The United States civil service commission announces that all persons wishing to stand an examination for agriculturists, which is to be held March 23, must apply to the secretary of the civil board in several cities, including Atlanta.

Those passing the examination will be eligible for service in the field and the duties of this position will be to conduct investigations on the cost of crop production, to make farm management surveys and to conduct other investigations relating to all phases of farm economics in connection with the general farm management investigations.

No eligibles were secured at the examinations last December. The salaries range from $2,500 to $3,000 a year.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR ORGAN CONCERT

City Organist Edwin Arthur Kraft has announced the following program for the free Sunday afternoon concert at 3:30 o'clock at the Auditorium-Armory:

"Marche Religieuse (Alex Guilmant), "Romanza in D" (Horatio W. Parker), "Andante Grazioso" (Gaston M. Dethier), Overture to "Rienzi," by request, (Richard Wagner), "Cantilene" (James H. Rogers), "Benediction Nuptiale" (Alfred Hollins), "Tocatta in D Minor" (Gottfried Federlein), "Spring Song" (Will C. Macfarlane), "Scherzo Symphonique Concertante" (William Faulkes).

LARGE CROWD HEARS READING BY POWERS

Leland Powers' reading from "David Copperfield" last night at the Auditorium-Armory was a sympathetic interpretation of the chief characters in a book that is dear to all lovers of literature. His recital was not a cold criticism, but a vivid, glowing, humorous picture of figures that have come to be as much a part of human life as though they had breathed and lived.

Mr. Powers' reading, which was under the auspices of the Alkahest lyceum course, was preceded with a musical recital by Professor Hubert Clyde Linscott, baritone, of Brenau college, accompanied by Miss Annie Lou Pagett, also of Brenau.

AMERICUS TO INVITE STATE W. O. W. MEETING

Americus, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—The city council of Americus in meeting this evening adopted resolutions joining Americus camp, No. 292, Woodmen of the World, in an invitation to the state Woodmen of the World organization to hold its next annual convention here. The invitation will be extended at the state convention at Athens in April, which will be largely attended by Americus Woodmen.

MACON GERMANS PLAN TO GIVE GOLD FOR IRON

Macon, Ga., February 25.—(Special.) Macon Germans are preparing to exchange gold for iron by giving articles of jewelry for an iron ring, the gold to be sent to the fatherland to replenish the kaiser's strong box. A shipment of these iron rings are now on their way here and as soon as they arrive they will be distributed by a committee from the German-American club. The gold received will be placed in a pot and melted into one piece and sold for its actual value, the proceeds being sent to Germany.

THOMASVILLE FAVORS SHIP PURCHASE BILL

Thomasville, Ga. February 26.—(Special.)—Although no concerted action has been taken here in regard to the ship purchase bill, Thomasville people are strongly with the president in the matter. Some of Mr. Hardwick's strongest supporters here in his senatorial campaign have expressed disapproval of his course in opposing the bill and some, it is understood, have written him personal letters to that effect.

MAYOR OF SAVANNAH HAS SERIOUS RELAPSE

Savannah, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—Mayor Davant, whose heart attack a month ago came near killing him, had a serious relapse last night and his friends and physicians are gravely concerned about him. His condition was somewhat improved today, but he is regarded as a very sick man.

Since his recent critical illness, Mayor Davant positively refused to follow the advice of his physician to go out of the city for a month or two. Coming to the city hall for a few hours each day has grown to be a habit with him, and of recent days he has been back in the old routine of his work.

He has put in very nearly the required number of hours under the ordinance which increased his salary. His physicians have protested several times to his remaining at his office any length of time, but he has managed to argue them out of their position.

Rally at Commerce.

Commerce, Ga., February 25.—(Special.)—The agricultural and industrial rally of the ninth congressional district will be held here Thursday, March 4, under the auspices of the State College of Agriculture, the Federated Woman's Clubs and the state department of agriculture. Some of the leading speakers of the state are listed on the program.

Robber Kills Cashier.

Sterling, Colo., February 25.—John Brunke, assistant cashier of the Farmers' State bank at Haxton, Colo., was shot and killed by a robber late today when he attempted to snatch a revolver from a shelf in the vault he had been ordered to open. The robber escaped with what cash he could gather up, but was surrounded and captured after a brief chase by a posse. He gave his name as Jay Thompson.

GRIFFIN GIVEN SELMA FRANCHISE

Georgia-Alabama League Is Reorganized — Sixty-Day Playing Season Is Agreed Upon.

Newnan, Ga., February 25.—(Special.) At an adjourned meeting of the Georgia-Alabama league held here today, Selma, Ala., was voted out of the league and her franchise turned over to Griffin, Ga., for a cash consideration.

The personnel of the league will, therefore, be Griffin, Lagrange, Newnan and Rome in Georgia and Anniston and Talladega in Alabama.

It was also decided that a 60-game schedule would be used, but with the proviso that if at the end of this time, the clubs saw fit, they could increase the schedule to 90 games. This provides for one season.

Every club was represented at the meeting but Rome. Her proxy was held by Anniston.

The salary limit remained at $750 as agreed upon at the meeting in Talladega, though some of the clubs made a fight to have it raised to $850.

MARIST AND DONALD FRASER PLAY TUESDAY

The Marist-Donald Fraser game, which was postponed until the conclusion of the league schedule, will be played Tuesday afternoon on the Decatur court. This game is a very important affair, and will have direct bearing on the ultimate standing of the two clubs. Both are practicing hard in anticipation of a hard struggle, and it is sure to be a lively scrap when they get together.

Valuable Item for Men

Health and strength hitherto unknown will be felt surging in rich red blood through the arteries and veins and life's greatest ambitions may be realized as never before if the following special treatment is followed by those men, and women, too, who are stricken with the most dreaded of all afflictions, nervous exhaustion, accompanied with such symptoms as extreme nervousness, insomnia, cold extremities, melancholia, headaches, constipation and dyspepsia, kidney trouble, dreadful dreams of direful disasters, timidity in venturing and a general inability to act naturally at all times as other people do. Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health and all the happiness accompanying it, the following home treatment is given. It contains no opiates or habit-forming drugs whatever.

The treatment consists of (3) three-grain cascarets tablets, packed in sealed tubes, and widely prescribed and dispensed by physicians and well stocked pharmacists. Full directions for self administration now accompany each tube. It is claimed that these tablets possess the most wonderful tonic-invigorating powers which can soon be experienced after taking them.

A Cracker a Day for Fans

2. HENRY MINOR HEITT.

(Editor's Note—Under this head The Constitution will carry daily a short story introducing to Atlanta fandom the players who will receive tryouts with the Crackers during the coming spring training season. Their record, history, etc., will be given in brief, concise fashion.)

Henry Minor Heitt is another Texas leaguer who will receive a tryout with the Crackers during the spring training season.

Heitt is a twirler, and was recommended to the Crackers by Frank Browning. He is a native Texan, being born in Arlington, Texas, January 27, 1891; therefore, he was but 24 years old last January. Heitt lives at his birth place in the off season.

Heitt is a right-hand twirler, he also bats right-handed, though this is of no particular interest, inasmuch as he is a twirler.

He stands six feet in his stocking feet and weighs 165 pounds. He has been in professional baseball four years. He started with the Cleburne, Texas-Oklahoma club in 1911, and during the past three years has been with Galveston in the Texas league from whom the Crackers secured him.

Heitt hit .241 last season and fielded .978. He had a pitching average of .560. Those who know him and have conferred with Manager Smith state that the locals got the best pitcher in the league when they landed Heitt.

DRUID HILLS GOLF CLUB WILL HOLD PAR TOURNAMENT

The Druid Hills Golf club will continue its policy of having a one-day tournament each week by having a tournament against par Saturday. The player who, with his handicap applying, is the most up or the least down to par at the end of the 18 holes wins.

There will be nine prizes awarded, consisting of Mojtegor "six spot" wooden clubs; Willie Mann special wooden and iron clubs, golf balls, supplies, etc.

The entrance fee will be one golf ball.

JIMMIE AUSTIN DOES THE RETURN LEAP TO BROWNS

St. Louis, Mo., February 25.—James Austin, third baseman, who signed a three-year contract with the Pittsburg Federals a few days ago, today announced he would play with the St. Louis Americans. He would not say if inducements were offered him to return.

Austin said he was under contract with St. Louis when he signed with the Pittsburg Federals, and that the latter team had no legal claim to his services. The report circulated when he signed was that he was not under contract with the locals.

FRANK WHITNEY BEATS JAKE ABEL

"Fighting Carpenter" Is Victor in Sensational Bout at Bijou—Both Boys Bleeding at Finish.

By Carl Taylor.

Frank Whitney, the "Fighting Carpenter," added another scalp to his belt last night when he defeated Jake Abel, of the most sensational 10-round fight Atlanta fans have been treated to in months.

Whitney was given the decision by the newspaper men, and he deserved it. Of the ten rounds, five went to Whitney, one to Abel, while the other three were even.

The fight was extremely bloody, both men bleeding profusely at several stages of the game. Abel's left eye was completely closed, his right badly swollen, his mouth cut, and his nose bled after the second round. Whitney's left eye was his right eye, in the sixth round, Abel's only round, Abel's cut a bad gash over it, and Frank bled badly during the last round.

Clean Exhibition.

The fight was a clean exhibition of the manly art. It was a sensational throughout, with the crowd on it's feet three-fourths of the time.

Whitney's in-fighting was extremely clever. Time after time he shot straight uppercuts to Abel's chin during the numerous clinches. His straight fights to the jaw and left hooks also piled up many points, but his work in the clinches was the cause of the exhibition.

Both men were in the pink of condition. This applies particularly to Abel. Bleeding nearly all the time, and grabbing and during the melee, he nearly always came back strong.

How Rounds Went.

The rounds were awarded as follows: First, third, fifth, eighth and tenth, Whitney. Sixth, Abel. Second, fourth, seventh and ninth, even.

In the eighth round Whitney scored the only knockdown of the match, sending Abel to the floor with a straight right to the mouth.

Four other fights were staged, only one of which went the limit. Kid Brown and Bud Conley fought four rounds to a draw. Young Enger was knocked out in the sixth round by Young North. Mike Saul stopped the Kid Williams-Joe Superior semi-windup bout in the fifth round, with no decision. Two dinges opened the card with two rounds of slow boxing.

FREDDIE WELSH GIVEN DECISION OVER WHITE

Champion Appeared to Have Better of Five Rounds. White Finishes Strong.

Milwaukee, Wis., February 25.—Freddie Welsh outboxed Charlie White in a ten-round no-decision boxing contest at the Auditorium tonight, according to the almost unanimous opinion of sporting writers. Welsh appeared to have had the advantage of five rounds, the third to seventh, inclusive. White shaded his opponent in the ninth and tenth, and the first, second and eighth appeared to be even.

The Englishman had White at his mercy during most of the fight, being fast and clever and getting away without punishment. White was slow and seemed unable to solve Welsh's whirlwind attack.

Welsh Set Brisk Pace.

In the earlier rounds Welsh set a brisk pace, but found White willing to mix. White wasted hopeful leg openings, evidently hoping to shoot in the short left hook for which he is famous, but the champion's shifty foot work and clever blocking made many of his efforts of no avail. White seemed more confident than in their former meeting and the last three rounds seemed to spectators to be fairly even.

Welsh's fast left jab did excellent execution in the third and fairly smothered the Chicagoan, who fought back wildly. Freddie landed half a dozen punches to Charlie's one without a return. A wild swing of the challenger accidentally landed low, but apparently did no damage to Welsh. White's seconds urged him to mix, but his rushes in most cases were avoided or checked by the champion's left jab.

Freddie danced around the challenger, landing almost at will in the fifth and sixth round. He used a hard right swing to the head and landed it frequently. White continually tried to whip in his left, but Welsh was too shifty.

White Becomes Wild.

White's eyes were puffed and he became so wild in the seventh and eighth that the crowd began to hoot. Welsh timed his blows carefully and drove them in almost without return. White landed a clean hard left to the body in the eighth.

White made a desperate attempt to even matters in the ninth and came out of his corner with a rush, swinging both hands. He landed several times, but his punches apparently did not slow the champion, although his aggressiveness gave him a shade better of the session in the opinion of experts. He continued his aggressive tactics in the final round and Welsh met him, too, too often. The champion seemed somewhat tired, but his superior cleverness saved him from any serious punishment. White missed repeatedly.

200 STATE PHYSICIANS GATHER IN ATLANTA

More than 200 physicians attending the third annual clinical meeting of the Georgia Surgeons' club, met last evening in the Ansley hotel for a banquet and symposium. The subject selected for discussion was "Surgical Indigestion." After a definition of surgical indigestion was given by Dr. G. Jones, of Atlanta, sixteen of its different phases were taken up by assigned physicians in short addresses. Dr. W. F. Westmoreland, Dr. W. S. Goldsmith and Dr. C. C. Harrold, all of Atlanta, dealt with the general subject of the discussion under consideration.

As on Thursday the visiting physicians will attend clinics at the various hospitals from 9 o'clock a. m. until 5 o'clock in the evening, for the purpose of observing the technique of the surgeons of Atlanta. Dr. Willis Jones, who was to hold a surgical clinic at the Grady hospital this morning, was suddenly taken ill from a gallstone attack, but his condition is not believed to be serious.

SCHAEFER SIGNED BY THE FEDERALS

New York, February 25.—Herman ("Germany") Schaefer, formerly of the Washington Americans, has signed a two-year contract with the Federal league and has been assigned to the Newark club, Federal headquarters announced today.

AT THE THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Four more performances will end the engagement of the splendid act that makes up the Forsyth program for this week. The Kimura Brothers, Japanese novelty clever, present an act that is superior to anything of the sort that has been offered in Atlanta vaudeville. Madam Henriette de Serris and her company of professional models appear in life-like reproductions of famous works of art and win the attention of every auditorium. Bertha Creighton and company in "Our Husband," present one of the best comedy one-acts of the season. The bill for next week will be headed by Harry Cooper, the famous character comedian. Herndon Shone and company, in "The Last of the Quakers," and the Primrose Four. "One Thousand Pounds of Harmony," will be among the other features.

"Old Plantation Days."

(At the Atlanta.)

The features which are being offered at the Atlanta this week in connection with the performance of "Old Plantation Days" by the Baldwin-Melville stock company are well worth while. Without a doubt the entertainment and correctly appraise the superiority of George Arliss in his famous performance of the great English premier in Louis N. Parker's comedy, "Disraeli," the coming theatergoers will have their first opportunity to seek it at the Atlanta theater on March 2, 4, 5 and 6. It has been said that in the hands of Mr. Arliss Disraeli assumes all of the incomparable diplomacy, wit, vigor of mind, masterful will power and virile gentlemanliness with which the great statesman of history is credited. The sale of seats commences morning; the large number of mail orders already received indicate immense demand for seats.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine."

(At the Montgomery.)

A Paul Armstrong play, "Alias Jimmy Valentine," with Robt. Warwick as Alias Jimmy Valentine, will be the attraction at the Montgomery for today only. It is the first time that upon the Luther Arms production of the same name, which was such a big success all over the country in 1909. Unlike some of Mr. Armstrong's plays this one really a good one in respect to its construction. He took as his basis one of O'Henry's famous stories, "A Retrieved Reformation," and the theme a remarkably powerful one, dominates both drama and photo-play. A number of the scenes were taken at Sing Sing prison in New York state and are said to be intensely interesting. It is a compelling story giving opportunities for strong natural acting and sincere motionalism. Robert Warwick has this role at the strongest parts ever presented on the screen.

Closed steady.

New York, February 25.—After a comparatively slight early decline, cotton rallied and closed steady at a net advance of 4 to 7 points.

Reports that war risk rates had been temporarily suspended, pending the adjustment of a new and higher schedule, seemed to be largely responsible for some scattered selling during the early trading. Liverpool did not fully meet yesterday's advance here and after opening unchanged to 4 points lower, the local market sold about 4 to 5 points under last night's closing figures.

Local traders appeared to find little to indicate that the expected advance in war risks would cause any material check in the export movement, however, and the market soon steadied, on a renewal of Liverpool buying presumably to undo straddles. The demand from this source slackened off after the close abroad, but offerings remained light and the market became rather more active again during the afternoon on a renewal of Wall street local and trade buying.

Active months sold 7 to 9 points higher on this bulge or 26 points above the low level of yesterday on October contracts. Realizing caused reactions of 2 or 3 points in the later trading.

There were rumors that a little cotton owned by exporters in the southwest was being offered for resale, but there was little or no southern selling or hedging against actual cotton reported around the local ring and the supply of contracts appeared to be comparatively scarce after the recent more or less general liquidation.

Private advices from various points in the belt reported a less active spot demand, but quite generally claimed that holders were not pressing their cotton for sale.

Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands, 8.35; no sales.

New Orleans, February 25.—After a decline of 5 to 8 points in the early trading today the cotton market showed decided strength in the afternoon, on reports of European buying.

At the best of the day, the trading months were 9 to 11 points over yesterday's last quotations. The close was at a net gain of 6 to 9 points. Scalping longs were profit-takers in the last half hour of business, which pared down the advance somewhat.

Poor cables stimulated selling around the first call, but the desire of shorts for profits checked the downward movement. Organized bull support was lacking, owing to the disposition of leading bull interests not to attempt to bring about higher prices until after the new crop is in the ground. Later, brokers began to get buying orders which were generally considered to come from spinners and spot merchants abroad. They gave the market a firm undertone.

Spot cotton quiet, unchanged; sales on the spot, 1,155 bales; to arrive, 1,300; good ordinary, 5.87; strict good ordinary, 6.43; low middling, 6.93; strict low middling, 7.38; middling, 7.75; strict middling, 8.00; good middling, 8.44; strict good middling, 8.81; receipts, 10,521; stock, 454,651.

WHEAT DECLINED ON EMBARGO TALK

Another Factor in Loss Was Prospect of Russian Wheat Coming Through the Dardanelles—Corn and Oats Off.

Chicago, February 25.—Embargo rumors and the prospect of the Russian surplus finding an outlet through the Dardanelles made wheat tumble in price today after an early advance. The market closed unsettled, 2 1-8 to 3 1-8@3 1-4 under last night. Other leading staples, too, all finished at a net decline, corn down 1 7-8@2 to 2 1-8@2 1-4, oats 7-8@1 to 1, and provisions 10@12 1-2 to 55 cents.

Corn took the same path as wheat. Assertions that exporters at Baltimore were reselling corn to the west led to heavy unloading here.

Oats were upheld by notice of European purchasing that was estimated at 1,000,000 bushels. In the end, however, oats gave way in sympathy with corn and wheat.

Weakness of grains appeared to strip the provision market of nearly all support.

Rice.

New Orleans, February 25.—The demand was active for rough rice today, prices having a tendency to advance. Clean rice was strong and quotations unchanged. Receipts: Rough, 3,612; millers, 3,601; clean 1,797. Sales: 5,314 sacks rough Honduras at 3.40@4.65; 1,600 sacks Japan at 4.40@4.60; 3,710 pockets clean Honduras at 3¾@5⅛; 900 pockets Japan at 3 5-16@4⅝.

New York, February 25.—Dan Talmage & Co. say that it seems but a short while back that everything apparently conspired against any marked improvement in the business situation. The untoward conditions incident to the war, however, have certainly changed and everything points to a steady gain. Every element points to more favorable conditions and buyers are helping the situation by coming into the market and are inclined to operate more freely, so that the trade movement from day to day is decidedly more progressive and encouraging. Of course the fact that there is an enormous army of the unemployed is regarded as a menace to any real improvement, but there is a stronger feeling of optimism that things will continue to grow better with the general demand. The purchase of stuff for export to neutral countries as well as to the belligerents continues as yet undiminished and is becoming a most important factor in the market situation and prices are very strongly maintained for all grades.

Advices from the south along the Atlantic coast indicate that conditions have improved somewhat. The better grades are advancing steadily and Honduras has the call on account of relatively high prices being asked for Blue Rose and Japan styles. Screening and second heads are almost unobtainable, except at what is considered prohibitive prices. The movement of Carolina is rather small on account of high values asked.

At New Orleans, reports continued demand and available supplies of both rough and clean are meeting ready sale. Blue Rose and Japan styles are almost unobtainable.

In the interior, southwest Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas, show active demand with all offerings taken up at full prices. It is reported that Japans and Blue Rose rough have sold as high as $4.65 a barrel, the high water mark of this season.

STOCKS RECOVERED SOME OF LOSSES

Gains Were Scored in Several Issues, While Others Touched New Low Minimum—Bonds Firm.

New York, February 25.—Further recovery from recent price depressions was made by today's stock market, the improvement embracing all parts of the list, with the exception of a few issues whose increasing weakness results from unusual conditions. Gains of a point were the rule in speculative and investment shares, while some of the erstwhile active specialties like Mexican Petroleum, American Tobacco and the Motor stocks, scored more material advances.

The weak features included New Haven, Southern Railway preferred, St. Paul preferred, Seaboard preferred, Mackay companies preferred and Pressed Steel Car preferred, all of which touched new low minimum prices, the decline in Fressed Steel extending to 8 points. Baltimore and Ohio common also came within fractional range of its new minimum of 63, while May department stores, with a perpendicular decline of almost 9 points, reflected an absence of support.

More stability was manifested by all the markets for foreign exchange, that situation being assisted by circumstantial rumors that negotiations are almost completed for the placing of additional credits by several of the European governments now making extensive purchases in this country.

Domestic monetary movements show a slight hardening of rates for long-time accommodations, but interior banks continue to lend freely of their superfluous funds. The probable success of the Anaconda Copper note offering, which coincides with an advance in the price of copper metal to 15 cents, was the interesting financial development of the day.

London's markets were heavy, even higher grade investment issues inclining to lower levels. The Bank of England showed a further loss of gold and reduction of liability reserves.

Bonds were firm, except in some of the lower-priced speculative issues. Total sales, par value, were $2,020,000. United States registered twos declined 1-4 per cent on call.

FOODSTUFFS EXPORTS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Washington, February 25.—What vast increases have been made in the export of foodstuffs since the European war began was disclosed today by the department of commerce in a detailed statement. Foodstuffs exports for the seven months ending with January totaled $377,400,000, an increase of $188,000,000 over the same month of the last fiscal year.

One hundred millions bushels more wheat were exported than last year; 38,000,000 bushels more oats; 100,000,000 bushels more corn; 40,000,000 pounds more fresh beef; 34,500,000 pounds more canned beef; 1,500,000 barrels more flour; 1,000,000 pounds more pickled beef; 22,000,000 gallons more gasoline, naphtha, etc., and 111,000,000 gallons more residuum, fuel, oil, etc., were sent abroad.

At the same time, there was a great decrease in the exports of cotton, because of the war, the total for the seven months being 4,105,525 bales, or 2,500,000 bales less than last year.

MORE MARCH NOTICES IN THE COFFEE MARKET

New York, February 25.—Additional March notices against 10,000 bags were issued in the coffee market here today, leading to continued switching from near to late months. Otherwise there was very little feature. After opening unchanged to 1 point lower, futures closed net unchanged to 4 points lower. Sales, including exchanges, were 18,750.

European houses were moderate buyers of near months, while there was some scattering Wall street liquidation and a little trade selling.

Spot quiet, Rio No. 7, 7¾; Santos No. 4, 9¾.

Owing to the holiday there were no cables from the Brazilian markets. Cost and freight offers were unchanged.

Futures in New York ranged as follows:

	Opening.	Closing.
January	7.10@7.15	....
February	....	5.48@5.49
March	....	5.48@5.49
April	5.55 bid	5.53@5.54

August	5.74 bid	6.73@6.75
September	6.84@6.88	6.82@6.83
October	6.90 bid	6.89@6.90
November	6.98 bid	6.95@6.96
December	7.06@7.11	7.02@7.03

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON THE COTTON MARKET

New York, February 25.—(Special.)—The market today indicated by its action that liquidation had finished for the present and that the lower prices were attractive to those contemplating purchases. While the demand became quite insistent at the closing of the market, offerings proved to be much lighter than during the past few days, as a result of which prices improved somewhat. Since nervousness over shipments of cotton abroad caused the selling movement, any development that will allay this feeling and make it plain that exports will continue as heretofore should bring about a generally better demand.

JAY, BOND & CO.

New York, February 25.—(Special.)—Liverpool did not fully respond to our improvement yesterday, but had a steadier undertone throughout the day, closing 5 to 6 points higher. The action of the government in practically closing the war insurance bureau on cotton to North sea ports was advanced as against the export of cotton. On the other hand, if the foreign governments find the United States will not insure, why they will find some method of means by which the danger may be avoided. In other words, they may be compelled to take the risks of importing their cotton and foodstuffs, which we refuse to do any longer.

The trade does not appear to be so bearish tonight, but they think it quite possible that the fortunes of war may cause another decline at any moment.

HUBBARD BROS & CO.

Metals.

New York, February 25.—Lead steady at $3.85@3.95; London, £20 13s.

THE MOTORISTS' BEST FRIEND

THIS PLUG is designed to be superior to all, and represents a mechanical perfection, with a 1-inch firing surface, a reliable and exceedingly serviceable spark plug. Bergie National Porcelains are made to our own formula from the imported clays, and are hand-turned. Bergie National Porcelains are as near heat-proof as porcelain can be made, and any one returning a Bergie National Porcelain that has been cracked by heat, will have same replaced without charge, whether in use a day of a year. The most satisfactory porcelain plug ever produced.
Bergie National with a 1-inch firing surface.
Bergie National is absolutely gas-tight.
Bergie National delivers the spark "down deep."
Bergie Nationals can be taken apart easily and reassembled, absolutely gas tight.
Put in a set and forget your spark plug troubles.

W. R. PURTELL HELD AFTER AUTO THEFT

Prisoner Arrested in Connection With Alleged System of Blackmail and Automobile Stealing.

Dr. Virgil Cook and Dr. A. L. Whitehead yesterday turned detectives, and as a result W. R. Purtell, manager of the Georgia Good Roads company, Austell building, is now under arrest at police headquarters under a $1,000 bond, in connection with an alleged system of blackmail and automobile stealing.

It all came about as the result of the theft of Dr. Whitehead's Ford automobile from in front of the Ansley hotel Thursday night.

Friday morning, the police say, V. H. Kriegshaber's garage was broken into and two white men were in the act of removing from the garage a Ford auto, which is alleged, has since been identified since as Dr. Whitehead's car.

The police say that one of Mr. Kriegshaber's negro employees questioned the white men, and that in turn one of the two gave the negro Purtell's business card, with instructions to the questioner to tell Mr. Kriegshaber that it was Mr. Purtell who had stored his car in his garage for the night.

Later, Friday morning, it is charged, that Mr. Purtell informed Dr. Cook that he had recovered his automobile that was stolen several nights ago. Dr. Cook told him it was not his car, believing it was Dr. Whitehead's car, Dr. Cook so informed him.

Dr. Whitehead received a letter from Mr. Purtell, mailed Friday, declaring that his agency had recovered his stolen car, but that it would be necessary for him to pay him (Purtell) $35 for recovery fee.

Dr. Whitehead demanded that his machine be turned over to him. Then Dr. Whitehead charges that Purtell attempted to blackmail him, saying that Purtell told him that if he did not pay $35 he would advertise that his car had been found ditched on a country road near Atlanta, and that a number of hair pins and a ladies' slipper had been found on the seats of the broken-down car.

Detectives John Black and George Garner were called in at this point, and arrested Purtell.

BOARD OF EDUCATION FOR TRAINING SCHOOL

a campaign of education started. The matter was referred to the teachers and school committee.

Teacher Is Dismissed.

The board dismissed Alice Russell, a teacher at the Gray Street school, for using abusive language to Annie Speer, who is also a teacher, but made it plain that the case will be reopened by the board if a request is made in the early future. Both teachers are assigned to negro schools.

On the recommendation of Superintendent Slaton, Dr. George S. Morse, medical examiner in the negro schools, was dismissed for neglect of duty. It was alleged that Dr. Morse failed to make inspections when required, and that he made reports on children whom he has never seen.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Norton, members of the Chapman-Alexander revival, were refused permission to speak to high school boys and girls.

On the recommendation of Superintendent Slaton, April 30 and May 1 were designated by the board as days for holding the next regular examinations for teachers.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Work on the completion of the South Forsyth street regrading and paving project, which has dragged along for many months, is rapidly being rushed to completion, and one of the largest gangs ever employed on street work in Atlanta is daily employed at this labor.

The property owners and business men on South Forsyth have been outraged at the slowness with which this work has proceeded, and now that council has assured them that the street will be completed within two weeks, or less time, these business houses and property owners are looking forward to an advance in property values and increased business.

Connally Excavations.

Excavations for the foundation of the Connally building, on the southeast corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets, were begun Thursday. The foundation is to go down 25 feet. Only five stories will be built to the proposed sixteen-story office building now, and work will be rushed to complete this project before the end of summer. The initial cost will be $150,000.

Adair Park Building.

Within the next thirty days two houses will be started in Adair Park, James L. Wright has sold to J. Thomas lot 15 of block A of Adair Park, and on this lot Mr. Thomas is building a $5,000 house.

Real estate transactions were few Thursday, and only two building permits, both residences, of any consequence were issued.

The Burdett Realty company sold to Boyd Perry for a client 50 West Fourteenth street, a two-story frame house, on a lot 48x130, valued at $10,500 for trading purposes. A residence property on Gordon street in West End was given as part payment.

Night o' Nights.

All preparations for the most elaborate real estate banquet in the history of the Atlanta real estate exchange have been completed by Chairman Eugene S. Kelly, and 7:30 o'clock tonight, at the Ansley hotel, the largest gathering of Atlanta real estate men ever assembled for a banquet will be seen.

Thomas Shallcross, Jr., of Philadelphia, president of the national association of real estate exchanges, accompanied by "rapid-fire" Thomas Ingersoll, secretary, and others, will arrive on the afternoon Southern train from Birmingham, Ala., to be the honor guests at tonight's realty banquet.

Honorary Escort.

A special party of local landbrokers will meet the national president in autos, and the afternoon will be spent in motoring over the city to inspect the many subdivision projects now being undertaking by Atlanta realty firms. He will also be taken to the "Battlefields of Atlanta," the numerous country clubs and other places of interest about the city.

A special luncheon Saturday at the Capital City club will be given the officers of the national association.

The honorary escort of today will be composed of Harris G. White, president of the local realty exchange; Eugene S. Kelly, chairman banquet; Pitchugh Knox and Charles P. Glover.

Banquet Speakers.

Mr. Kelly has arranged the following program for tonight:

Harris G. White, toastmaster.

"Leverage and Real Estate Agents"—Reuben Arnold.

"Real Estate and the Regional Bank"—Hon. Joseph A. McCord, governor of the Atlanta federal reserve bank.

"The Real Estate Agent in Action"—Judge John T. Pendleton.

Address—Thomas Shallcross, Jr., of Philadelphia, president of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges.

"Why Everybody Loves a Real Estate Man"—Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe university.

"Land—Its Uses and Values"—Colonel Walter P. Andrews.

INSURANCE FIELD MEN HOLD CONFERENCE HERE

The annual meeting of the field representatives in the southern states of the Hartford Fire Insurance company was held Thursday in the Piedmont hotel. The Hartford Accident and Indemnity Insurance company, the Citizens' Insurance company, of Missouri, and the Sterling Fire Insurance company, which are subsidiary companies, were also represented.

In addition to the field representatives in attendance, there were also present R. M. Bissell and James Wyper, president and vice president of the Hartford Fire Insurance company, of Hartford, Conn., and Norman Morey and J. Collins Lee, vice president and agency secretary of the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Insurance company.

Eggleston & Prescott, of Atlanta, are agents for the south of the Hartford Fire Insurance company.

Jack and Bob say:

Said Jack yesterday, "Our New York fabric buyer tells us that he can still procure extra trousers patterns to match the suit patterns we have in stock. This means that we can supply the extra trousers now."

"It is important news for the man who realizes the economy of ordering extra trousers with one of our $35 suits."

Bob's Bull—In yesterday's ad, which is repeated on another page of today's paper, Bob used the word "Suits" instead of "Shirts." Read it over again.

"LAND TO SELL"

"If I had as much money as I could tell
I would not be crying 'Land to sell!'"
(Old nursery rhyme.)

Here is an economical lot for the home builder—on Lake Avenue, near Euclid Avenue, 50x150, in a grove of big trees. All street improvements are down.

This land has never been offered for sale before; it is a concession to the midwinter purchaser at $1,200.

Drink or Drugs Destroy Manhood

Any reputable physician will advise you that the poison "stored up" in the system from excessive drinking of liquors and finally destroys all the nerves, tissues and organs of the body.

The Neal Treatment acts as an antidote for these poisons, eliminates them from the system, creates a loathing for liquor or drugs, overcomes the diseased condition and restores mental, moral and physical manhood.
